FOREWORD

Tribute to Mistress Peggy Sue

Even though many submissives call her Goddess, which she accepts, (not the deity type but the Oxford dictionary definition: "Goddess...a beautiful woman who is worshipped or adored) Peggy Sue prefers the word Mistress in front of her name.

From humble beginnings in a lower-middle class upbringing in Ontario, Canada, Peggy Sue Nash grew up with an unswerving conviction as to Her supremacy, a fact that the world is just now beginning to behold as a reality. As Her matriarchal order gains momentum over the net, through Her 18 websites visited by many thousands and many groups, Mistress promulgates Her matriarchal lifestyle and ideology generously to Her tens of thousands of devotees, each eager to receive more of Her wise counsel.

Yes, She is a rising star in the eyes of many, many men all over the world, whose imagination and heartfelt devotion She has captured, simply by virtue of the kind of Supreme Woman She is and was always destined to become. And as many more men are swept under Her influence and gently impressed into Her service, this world becomes a little bit more civilized, gentle, and bent beneath Her sovereign control and wise rule. This year of 2011 has witnessed a virtual milestone in matriarchal marriage, as She and Her husband christopher, whom She grants the honor of calling Her "slave emeritus" are celebrating their 33rd year of matrimonial FemDom bliss (June 24th) and was proclaimed "the representative family of Gynarchy. This is virtually unknown in society, much less in matriarchal relationships. She owes Her exemplary success as Head of the household in that She maintains firm control of Her slave, yet graciously grants him respect, maintaining his dignity as a individual worthy to serve Her while allowing him to achieve his goals. And indeed, all Her subjects throughout Her worldwide Empire are afforded the dignity of personhood. Rather than attempting to dehumanizing them as so many weaker "dommes" have done, She wisely and effortlessly earns their undying loyalty, devotion and abject veneration as a truly human but not divine being, one worthy to rule over Her many grateful subjects.

A simple request from Her is thus far more powerful in marshalling their services than scores of epithets, threats and coercion ever could. As a result, She strikes a cord innately within the hearts of men everywhere to submit to a kind, reasonable, self-confidently superior Female worthy of their submission. As a result, a year and a half ago, many of the pretender supremacists who lacked Her superior insights, but who sensed their power base threatened, attempted to discredit, and ultimately to banish Her from their groups. They at the time had thousands of male adherents, yet Mistress Peggy Sue, by steadfastly administering to the male populations of these groups the benefit of Her wisdom, was able to redirect them under Her tutelage, and away from those pretenders. Amidst all their silly in-fighting, scheming and plotting against each other like insecure middle - school girls for their greedy handfuls of loyal devotees, they collectively were no match for Mistress Peggy Sue. Yet eschewing any vindictive response, our Wondrous Woman refused to lash back, instead offering them a truce, which they flatly rejected, to their detriment and ultimate demise. In the final outcome, Mistress Peggy Sue was able to depose of every one of those toy tyrants, destroying their groups, redirecting their numbers of male subjects into Her spellbinding influence and under Her magnanimous majesty, all without ever once stooping to their level. What has made the difference is Her superior intelligence, coupled with Her kindness of heart. Her linguistic brilliance (She speaks more than a dozen languages) is only surpassed by Her insights into the male soul, along with the smart methods She employs of engaging the willing servitude of men everywhere. Rare is the male who would be able to withstand Her face to face, as even through cyberspace, few seem to be able to resist Her sovereign will. This is because to each servant she grants respect and civility, yet seems to have a 'sixth sense' in knowing what it will take to control them. As She puts it, "You do not have to break a slave's will by torture or whipping or pounding the shit out of him to get him to serve you as I am living proof of it and if you use your God given gift of feminine wiles then any man can be enslaved no matter how difficult he is.

The key is getting inside his head and using his weaknesses and strengths to ensure his servitude to you and once you have him fully in your grasp the rest is easy." Her slave christopher was an attorney defending his client when a young Mistress Peggy Sue first saw him, and then and there She decided to take him as Her husband and make him Her willing slave. Thirty three years under Her unmistakable rule (beginning at their wedding, where She proudly announced their marriage to be overtly matriarchal), he testifies that a matriarchal marriage needn't be a win/lose proposition-- there is much for a male submissive to gain in serving his Sublime Mistress. "There is no greater joy," he says proudly, "when one can serve his mistress knowing that it is his duty in life to make her happy and do this out of love, not fear, for his mistress." Is it any wonder She is proud of Her longstanding marriage to Her "slave emeritus" christopher and has refused payment for him? As she said "any slave worth that much is worth keeping" and She would note that She has taken the reins of command, not for Her sake alone, but because She has always affirmed the natural superiority of women everywhere to their male counterparts, and firmly believes men to be in much better hands in a matriarchal union than in one given to the caprices of their slovenly, undisciplined, misguided ways. Besides, women are naturally suited to the running of a household. To 'put the leather' (so to speak) to what She promotes, Mistress Peggy Sue has duplicated Her supremacy by raising Her daughters Justine and Rebecea to follow in Her footsteps as dominants. And toward this purpose, She naturally utilized Her slave chris, who became their "guinea pig". And thusly did they learn the 'ropes' (so to speak) of the lifestyle at their Mother's knees first, and then (in their teens) began practiced flexing their rightful place and power upon their father (on his knees or over theirs) but coupled with the 'responsibility' of domination.

So it was that Mistress succeeded in 'passing the torch' to the next generation of Supreme Women. They are both competent professional Women, flexing their power in the business world, as well as at home. In establishing Her now vast domain, Mistress Peggy Sue enjoys a growing web of influence. Her burgeoning Empire encompasses many websites, where She personally attends to up to 500 emails daily from Her male admirers and subjects (of course She has elicited help from Her many male subjects in this). Mistress has written extensively and eloquently concerning the universal truths and inevitability of the quiet revolution and ongoing matriarchal world conquest, a movement so vast as to be undeniable and impossible for patriarchal resistance to withstand. More and more, Woman will emerge, and will continue becoming more manifest, as history melds into and becomes Her story.

The Rising Empire of Peggy Sue will figure prominently in that story and one should join any of her sites and read her constitution...a masterful work..well thought out...encompassing all aspects of Female rule (c.g. are you aware that she has set up safeguards for the protection of males?). In graciously bestowing Her supreme wisdom with those who would serve Her, She cements in our male minds the necessity for this inevitable outcome, in that it is simply in resonance with the facts of life.

So we as Her male adherents would do well to internalize the teachings She rightly and resolutely pronounces, that we would incorporate Her thoughts as our own, and thus become more useful to Her. If She is to have any influence in this world (and She certainly has great influence with all Her thousands of loyal subjects), then it will be because those Who desire to serve Her have inculcated Her words. Let them resound within you therefore, and let them reign imperially above all your other thoughts. Commit them to memory, as respected, valued, devoted, free willed submissives to Her High Will. recite them often and out loud to yourself, and know for a certainty they are true and unassailable facts of your existence.

Thank Mistress for elucidating these basic insights, stated simply for all Her loyal subjects to accept without confusion or questioning. Put these words on flash cards and review them daily. This will sustain you to give your unfaltering devotion and servitude to either Human Goddess (see definition at the beginning) or Mistress Peggy Sue, and to any and all Females within under whose guardianship She may assign you, or under Whom you may happen to fall at any moment, or a lifetime. Here for you to internalize are Her hallowed words :

"I believe, generally speaking, that Women are clearly superior to men when it comes to wisdom, intelligence, common sense, logical thinking, management ability, decision making ability, problem solving ability, long term thinking and long range planning, or the ability to "see the big picture," when it comes to planning and making decisions, mental and emotional strength, clarity and sharpness of the mind, cognitive reasoning, quickness of reflexes, stamina and endurance, sexual strength and power, pain tolerance, willpower, perseverance, determination, and when need be, ferocity and tenacity. For these reasons, among others, I believe Women are far better suited to the positions of authority, and roles of leadership at all levels of our society than men are."

May Mistress Peggy Sue come more and more into Her destined Empire, and may it continue to prosper and grow with a male workforce eager to serve, knowing that we serve the future, which is above all, to serve Her and all the Females within Her supreme authority.

INTRODUCTION

My Beliefs

In my years as a dominant woman for 49 out of 63 years of my life, I have found that my slave husband of 32 years enjoys being the true submissive slave (I use that term with pride).

He has never tried topping from the bottom, has never tried to run my life, has never attempted to challenge me in an arrogant way and is willing to endure experimentation of different punishments that I have read about on the Internet.

William [Bond] is right in the fact that I am not a Goddess in the true sense of the word but Christopher calls me a Goddess because, in his mind, he truly believes I am one and calls my twin sister Kathleen and my daughters Mistress.

It was up to me to lead him into my version of domination... a version that was gentler and kinder and where punishment was only given when he disobeyed me and rewarded when he pleased me. I slowly weaved a web around him, until he was snared and helpless, by getting his consent for every step of my domination. Why? He was ready to give up submissiveness, because of his mom's brand of dominance, but I saw the potential of recreating him into my idea of a slave.

To call him a worm or a slug is repugnant to me as I believe that a slave or submissive is worthy of their servitude but this does not mean that he is equal with me... NO, it means that I look upon him as a man who can serve me.

No one can ever feel the power and pride I have inside me when I enter a room, alone or with company, and he immediately kneels and kisses my booted feet and gloved hands then keeps his head down until I tell him to look at me. The wonderful thing is that he does this not out of duty or obligation or fear but does obey and honour me out of devotion and love. These I feel are the main criteria for a slave emeritus who my Christopher is and for any slave for that matter.

There will be Dommes who will disagree with my methods of domination but this type of domination has enable many of my online submissives to feel so worthy that they gladly will go through a brick wall for me.

Lastly, if a submissive contacts me he greets me in a special way, when he makes contact and when he signs off, and I never ignore one or tell him rudely to shove it. Yes there have been submissives that have tried to dominate me but after a warning by me they either show respect or they get cut off. I also will not cater to a submissive that wants me to be sadistic to him... the guy who keeps coming back with the same fetish over and over and over and over and over again.

I have found, unlike some other Dommes who think they are Dommies, that it is imperative to listen and guide the many submissives who are confused about their role in this male dominated world and who have problems, as mentioned before, regarding vanilla sex with their wives. I have talked to some of those wives and they have discarded the old stigma of the Dominatrix and now happily domme their hubby's.

Lastly, some dummies feel they have to be the whip cracking, man hating, get him to fear us, let's beat the shit out of him and break him variety. NO... I have never subscribed to this fallacy, which it is, and have had great success in using my brand of Female Domination with online and real-time submissives.

When my younger brothers, who were dommed when I was age 14, come over their wives see immediately how they are very subservient in my presence and see the power I have over them. Then these wives see my Chris showing subservience to them. They are now realizing that they, like all women, have the POWER inside them to make a man submissive without the need for brutality.

Men are, at heart, romantics but they have never been taught HOW TO BE ROMANTIC AND KNOW WHAT A WOMAN REALLY WANTS... DOMINA OR NOT. It is up to us Dominas to show men the benefits of subservience, in romance and all other areas, and how they can be rewarded or punished according to their actions. Men are like little boys except in a different frame and a phrase my sister coined "all men should be handed over to a female authority so they can be led down the path of Female Domination" applies to the above.

In conclusion this is the Mission Statement of my enslave husband for 31 years who is in a happy and very rewarding marriage for both of us:

"As my husband..... who has been my slave for 33 years said 'There is no greater joy when one can serve his mistress knowing that it is his duty in life to make her happy and do this out of love, not fear, for his mistress. That love is seen even in non married relationships where the slave voluntarily submits and enjoys his servitude to his mistress"

I - FEMALE SUPREMACY

The Natural Superiority of Women

One lesson modern philosophers have taught us is that human consciousness is an essentially historical that is to say changeable phenomenon.

Although the term patriarchal correctly describes the predominant form of consciousness and society in the past, there is a vast body of evidence to indicate that the situation is rapidly changing. If our ancestors could never have imagined the freedom and power, which the women of today enjoy, only the boldest visionaries among us can envision the brave new world of female supremacy that will dawn tomorrow.

In this article I'd like to discuss some of the most essential aspects of the thinking and life that will characterize the society of the future.

In the society of the future, masculinity itself will be redefined along the lines of gynosupremacy. There men will come to understand and accept that their deepest psychosexual fulfillment can only come through service to womankind.

In this manner obeisance before a woman will be seen as a masculine right of self-fulfillment. It should be obvious that the concept of masculinity has always been defined with reference to femininity. Thus even today a man is 'macho' to the extent of his sexual prowess.

But what is this except to say that a man is constituted on the basis of his ability to please a woman ?

It is also significant to note how an understanding of the feminine basis of masculinity is becoming more explicit with time. The 'macho man' of yesterday 'conquered' women. Today this is no longer fashionable.

Today a man is more fully a man on the basis of his knowledge, skills, ability and willingness to please a woman. But this is to say that a man is more fully a man to the extent that his 'strong,' 'masculine,' 'macho' side is surrendered.

Apart from feminine influence, the raw inchoate male libido is merely animalistic.

To emerge strong and whole, male elements must be disciplined and purified in the fires of the feminine. Even today these insights are universally recognized. Employers are hesitant to give positions of responsibility or power to single males. (And who is a single male, except one not under the controlling influence of a woman?)

Research demonstrates that regardless of education or training, a man's income rises remarkably once he is married. Insurance rates are drastically lower for married males. What do these facts indicate but that males without the controlling influence of a woman are reckless, immature, incompetent, and dangerous? Certainly single males are often involved with a woman.

But this is not sufficient. In order for a male to fully be a man, he must come under the full influence and control of a woman. As Freud recognized, a male who is single is able to achieve partial gratification of his animalistic desires and still retain his 'freedom.' A married man achieves full gratification, but at the price of freedom.

The contract of marriage guarantees what the male animal most deeply longs for to empty his testes on a regular basis. In exchange for this simple favor, he must surrender all that he thinks and knows as freedom. No longer can he do as he please she must now work hard and be productive.

Neither may he enjoy a variety of sexual experiences any longer. He must now be faithful, honest, and loyal. Once again, it was Freud who pointed out that fidelity; loyalty and industry are not masculine qualities at all. Man by his nature is promiscuous, treacherous, and lazy.

Few men would choose marriage if they could have a variety of sexual partners on a regular, and guaranteed basis. Men only become loyal, faithful and productive when they come under the control of a woman. It is only the contract of marriage which insists that a man work and surrender the fruits of his labor.

Likewise it is a woman who insists that a man be faithful. It is clear then that man loses what he knows as freedom through marriage. But notice what the loss of a man's 'freedom' really means. Properly speaking, a man who has come under the controlling influence of women has not lost true freedom at all.

In orthodox philosophical language, what he has really lost is his 'freedom of nature.' 'Freedom of nature' describes the chaos of the natural instincts not tempered by reason and moral judgment. In primitive society, freedom knew no restraints at all. There every individual was absolutely free, but chaos reigned.

The birth of civilization demanded the curtailment of absolute freedom to insure the cohesion of society as a whole. In an individual, 'freedom of nature' corresponds to infantilism. Like the savage in primitive society, the infant is absolutely free, but yet uncivilized. The child matures and becomes an adult only by renouncing infantile demands for instant gratification.

For a male, marriage is simply the last stage of the process of maturity. Thus in coming under the controlling influence of a woman, a man has lost his infantile freedom in exchange for being an adult. It is only in a mature adult state that he can realize his innermost potential.

Contra wise, apart from the controlling influence of a woman, a man remains a mere child. The disapproving attitude which society holds towards single males is then not without justification. The single male the male undisciplined by the control and influence of woman is not and cannot be fully a member of civilized society. Even where he ostensibly lives according to the rules of society, his deepest motivations are guided by infantile desires.

Natural Female Dominance

Question to Mistress Peggy Sue :

Mistress Peggy Sue, Do you not think that dominant traits are just human nature, not specifically a female trait? It seems to me that humans in general have a quest for power...both male and female. Just look at the corporate world...also government. There is so much more involved in it than men just going to work and earning a living. A lot of it is a power trip that a lot of men seem to enjoy once they've experienced it also.

I have always thought I was an equal. I could not ever let a man dominate me, I have way too much independence. But, also, I respect that right in all individuals, no matter the gender, so I have never had a desire to dominate a man either. I am now living with a man who has a submissive nature and has shown me a side I had never thought of before. That has opened up a new world for me with many questions as you can see. I'm curious to learn what makes a dominant woman tick, what makes a submissive man tick?

On one hand, why wouldn't a woman desire to be waited on, to be cherished, to be in control? But how can she humiliate her partner and still admire, love and respect him? I also wouldn't admire or respect a man for being a brute towards a woman. That's why "equal partners" seems to make sense to me. We've had some very deep conversations about it.

On the other hand, I do know women are bossy creatures who DO like the last word, who DO like things their way, who DO like to be treated as someone special. I'm no exception to that. So I'm a bit confused and I'm very curious and am trying to understand and would like a relationship with my sweetie that works for both of us. I do appreciate your thoughts.

Reply of Mistress Peggy Sue :

Let's not kid ourselves, wives have dominated husbands behind closed doors since the beginning of the institute of marriage. Single males have teased married men for generations about being hen-pecked and pussy whipped by their wives. Men have always known deep inside that once they become married, the wife will run the show. But today's modern women are taking that domination a step further. What is different today is that women are not content with being the strong, hidden force behind their successful men. Women are starting to become dominant outside the home as they are flexing their superiority in college campuses all across our society. This past spring, fifty-seven percent of all college degrees were earned by women and this fourteen point gap (57-43 percent) is expected to grow more lopsided with each passing year. This dominance in the classroom is starting to translate to dominance in the workforce, in business and in politics.

As women start to excel and become dominant in the workplace and in the business world, this is causing women to exert even more dominance within their personal relationships with men. Whereas wives have always dominated their husbands behind closed doors in a subtle manner, now they are dominating their husbands more and more openly. They are taking charge of the bedroom, as they are becoming the initiators of sex. They are taking charge of the finances and they are taking charge of the decision-making within the marriage. As the women are exerting dominance in these areas, men's submissive natures are stirring even more and men desire to be dominated in all areas of their lives by the female gender.

The female dominant nature still lies dormant in many women and it takes a male's submissive nature to draw it out. But as women become more successful and more aggressive in the classroom and in the business world, women will more readily embrace their dominant persona and will gladly accept and even demand their male partner's submission.

The female gives the male what he needs by dominating him and the male gives her his gift by submitting to her and treating her like his Queen. Most women would love to have a husband that loves, honors, worships, and obeys her. The dominant female lives this dream because she has learned how to motivate her man to serve her needs by meeting his need to be dominated. That is the beauty of Female Domination.

In reality, there is no such thing as an equal relationship. A so called 50/50 relationship leads to constant arguments as every decision must be discussed and debated. This leads to hurt feelings and fights. The day people bought into the 50/50 marriage was the day the divorce rate skyrocketed. There has to be final authority in a relationship. Be it on the job with the boss/employee relationship or the family with the parent/child relationship. The same goes for the wife/husband relationship. Men held women down so they could be the outward Head in the marriage relationship but the Genie is out of her bottle and women, like yourself, will no longer accept male rule in the home. Men know they are powerless to the female gender so the 50/50 dogma is their way of maintaining some control. However, more and more women are starting to come to the realization that the female should be the head of the marriage relationship. I hope you can embrace your dominant nature and thus make your dreams come true.

Why men need female dominance ?

Question to Mistress Peggy Sue :

Dear Ms Peggy Sue, I have enjoyed your sites and feel you provide a valuable service to both the dominant and submissive side of the relationship. I have a question for you please. In thinking about the inner need for some to men to submit to their wives - in some ways it seems simply that the male is looking to replicate his childhood relationship with his mother. He ends up in a very similar place - being totally dependent on his new mother (wife).

The tools and lifestyle are very similar: discipline, lack of financial resources, no need/opportunity to make decisions. The dominant wife has similar traits to a mother in terms of responsibility for a dependent coupled with the freedoms of adulthood. What are your thoughts on this please?

Reply of Mistress Peggy Sue :

There is a great deal of truth in your analysis, however what needs to be understood is the motivating force behind the male desire for loving female authority. The male need for discipline and nurturing from the loving hands of a woman is based in the spiritual, emotional and social necessities of the inner nature of man, and these needs never go away. Just because a male reaches adulthood, that does not diminish his necessity for loving female authority.

Wives have been referred to as “new mothers” long before anyone ever coined the phrase “female domination”. I would venture to guess that ever since there has been the institution of marriage, wives have been compared to mothers, both in a positive sense and in a derogatory sense, such as male peers teasing a husband that he is “hen-pecked” and has lost his freedom to his “new mother”.

This comparison is only natural because both a mother and a wife display the maternal instincts of the female nature. But never forget that in most cases, a woman is a wife (or significant other to a man) before she ever becomes a mother to a child. The matriarchal rule of a woman begins with the marriage (and often during the courtship) long before children come into the picture. It doesn't take a woman long before she begins to exert her authority and influence over a man. She will change his dress, point out his many flaws and try to train him to become what she expects in a man. I am talking about so-called vanilla relationships here, not just FemDom, but rather most female/male relationships.

Most of the time, the male will yield to the woman, especially during the courtship because he is under the spell of the woman's female sexual power. And once they enter into the legally binding arrangement of marriage, the woman will often exert more control and more power over the relationship, all the while acting as if the man is in charge in order to massage his ego and to conform to the patriarchal society model of marriage. But in most marriages, be they traditional, modern, vanilla or FemDom, the woman does run the show, either openly or through clever and influential ways. And the male gender knows this, and has always known this, and the pride of man tries to make fun of it by calling the wife “the old ball and chain” (translated the one who keeps you in bondage to her will) or “the new mother” (translated the one who has final say in the matter).

Men like to deny the obvious by talking about it in a negative light but this is a defense mechanism in order to protect the fragile male ego. The truth is that men want and need the maternal and feminine authority of women in their lives. It is how nature designed it to be. A male child is birthed into this world by a woman, he is nurtured and raised by a woman, he is disciplined for his own good by a woman and when he becomes an adult, he still longs for and seeks out to be under the control of a woman. It is in his nature and he needs female authority to bring peace and purpose to his life. The male who lacks loving female authority in his childhood or who lacks it in his adulthood, is often a male who is restless, untamed and conflicted.

Where society fails is when women do not embrace and celebrate their authority. For too long, women have bought into a lie and have suppressed their desire to be in charge by submitting to a flawed patriarchal system. We are beginning to see that change and women are beginning to become comfortable being open about their dominance in the marriage relationship. Women have always yielded influence behind the closed doors of the marriage relationship but now we are seeing women expecting submission from their husbands in an ever-growing wide array of areas.

When society refers to a wife as a “new mother” it is often meant as a negative comment, usually as an attack on a male's manhood. Even within the FemDom lifestyle, the term "new mother" is used to accuse a man of shrinking from his life obligations and to seek to return to the safety and care-free world of his childhood. However, the truth of the matter is the opposite. The man who will yield to his wife's authority and who will submit to her will usually be a very productive male who fulfills his life responsibilities. It is the man who fights female authority in the home who ends up shirking responsibility. The man who hangs out with the guys and who leaves the household duties and parenting to the wife might think he is showing society who wears the pants but the truth is he is running from his marital obligations.

In contrast, the husband who views his wife as his authority figure and who will obey his wife, he will be the husband that is more likely to be seen doing household chores and spending time with his children. He is more likely to be faithful to his job and to others because he must give an account to his wife for his behavior.

So whenever I hear someone refer to a wife as a husband's "new mother", I look at that term in the positive, as a compliment. For it signifies a man who will revere his wife and honor his wife just as he hopefully reveres and honors the woman who gave him life. A wife is not a mother but a woman is a woman, and the nurturing and disciplinarian traits of the maternal nature of the female is present in all women, and the nature of man desires and needs the maternal nature of the female, whether he is four or forty-four.

Thank you for the question.

Exorcising PatriarchyThe Death Hold of Patriarchy

Women have made a few advances, a few inroads in the system of patriarchy but so far the system has been able to absorb these advances and often turn the women against ourselves. This is almost inevitable since women are in so few positions of power. The patriarchal system has its "tokens" and "queen bees" and it is learning how to utilize the talents of women (not just the labor) to keep other women in check.

This is not difficult to do because even though patriarchy is first of all a legal system it is more psychological than legal. Patriarchy is defined as "the organization of society on the supremacy of the father in the clan or family, the legal dependence of the wives and children and the reckoning of descent and inheritance in the male line." In patriarchy the legal principles just mentioned spill over into the general society beyond the family by both law and custom and the supremacy of the father in the family is extended to the belief that the male is superior to the female. The result is the oppression of women and the over masculinization of society.

Our society is possessed the demon of patriarchy. We must exorcise this demon.

Although we are breaching the back of the legal system of patriarchy, the psychological remnants of patriarchy have a dreadful hold on us. This explains why the progress of the women's movement has been so slow and uneven. It explains why men remain in control and why they can get women to "do in" other women. The frustration of women in such a system often results in horizontal violence, as women attacking each other. It explains why some women stay in the background until other women have opened the way and then they push their "sister" aside and take an opportunity away from her. It explains why women usually do not believe in women and why women so often lack self-confidence. It explains why women continue to need male support and recognition and why women fail to take bold steps toward change.

The psychological remnants of patriarchy are like a psychosis that affects most of our thoughts and actions. Most of the women and men of our society really believe that women are inferior to men. Some even believe that women are tainted with evil. Many identify women with sex and they believe sex is evil. So we must reach deep into our psyche and rid ourselves of this demon, patriarchy. Women must be the exorcists for this exorcism.

Exorcism is not something to be taken lightly. It requires strength, knowledge, preparation and skill as well as dedication and commitment through a long, often painful process.

The Nature of Feminism.

If we are going to rid society of patriarchy and its oppression of women we must have accurate and precise knowledge of both patriarchy and feminism. If we are to replace patriarchy with feminism we must have a clear understanding of feminism, what it is and what it is not. Webster defines feminism as: "the theory of the political, economic and social equality of the sexes." 2 Since men wrote the dictionary it should not be surprising that the definition is lacking an essential element and must be corrected. Feminism is also the theory of the psychological equality of the sexes.

True feminism insists on the psychological equality of the sexes. "True" is stressed because now that feminism is no longer a joke and has even become fashionable in some places many people do not want to be openly accused of being anti-woman. So some people call themselves feminists who hold that women are equal to men but different from men.

These pseudo feminists take a somewhat liberal view of the "equal but different:" theory. They usually hold that women should receive the same pay as men for the same work because the salary should be based on production. This is a switch because the argument used to be that men should receive more than women because being "different" from women, men need more money. The liberal "equal but different" view now also probably argues for the participation by women in the decision making process of society on the grounds that being “different”, women have something unique to offer the system. Of course, the argument used to be that being “different”, woman’s place was in the home, not in the public sphere and no one cared what she might have to offer.

No matter how liberally one wanted to try to stretch it, complete legal equality for women in the “equal but different” theory would be difficult to defend. For example, it is hard to see how anyone holding the equal but different” view could support the E.R.A. In fact, the Hayden Rider and the Ervin Amendments were created to solve this dilemma. In essence these bills said women should have the equal protection of the law of the land except when they should be treated differently, because they were “different”. After long battles and many years of struggle these bills were eventually defeated the E,R.A. has come to the states for ratification, clean, so to speak 3.

Anyone who wants to get an idea of how people really feel about women should read the testimony given in the United States Congress on the E.R.A. Read the current Hearings 4 and as well as the earlier ones. Also read the Papal statements on women. 5 These statements show a movement from anti-woman to an attempt to deny the inferiority of women as previously held but they also show these theorists tripping over their tongues trying to justify equality on the bases of “difference”.

“Equal but different” is a theory which is misleading, to say the least. In the saying, “equal” refers to the genus and “different” refers to the species. So the saying means that two things are of the same genus, that each exhausts the genus, that one is just as much a representative of the genus as the other. So we can correctly say that an apple and an orange are both examples of fruit, that each exhausts the notion of fruit or, that an apple is just as much a fruit as an orange or vice versa. However, there is difference. Apples and oranges are said to be species of fruit. The difference is great. Apples and orange have a different specific nature. They are more different than they are alike. Their likeness is only in the remote classification of their genus, fruit. The differences are so great that one could even argue whether one or another “fruit” such as a tomato, were really not a vegetable. So the saying “equal but different” is properly said of apples and oranges. They are generically alike but specifically different.

But we do not speak that way about male and female. Not even the ancient, anti-woman Aristotle, claimed that male and female are different species. Male and female cats are of the same species, under the genus animal. A woman and a man are also of the same species, human, under the genus, animal. The human being and the cat are equally animal but they are different species. It is the rationality of the human being that makes the difference, although the canonized theologian of the Catholic Church, St. Thomas Aquinas, said that women were defective rationally. On this basis he claimed men are superior to women.

When one says a man and a woman are “equal but different” usually one is trying to say a man and a woman are equally precious as human beings; they are equally human beings. This is correct. The trouble comes when one then tries to stress differences as though the differences were essential, as though the differences caused a different nature. Only essential differences are sufficient to give title to different treatment. Since the difference between man and woman are not sufficient to cause a difference in species they are not sufficient to cause a difference in rights and responsibilities. Since man and woman are of the same species, they are very much alike, they are equally human beings, and have the exact and same title to rights and responsibilities. And since man and woman are of the same species, “equal but different” cannot properly be said of them.

There are also those who call themselves feminists who hold that men and women compliment each other psychologically. These pseudo feminists hold that some characteristics are innate or natural to the male and some characteristics are innate or natural to the female. So a man can naturally have only some of the human characteristics and the same for the female. In order to be whole the male and the female must be joined together. In other words wholeness is found in human nature; wholeness is extrinsic to the individual. Wholeness is gained by attaching oneself to a member of the “opposite”

The complimentary theory is popular but makes very little logical sense. First of all, human nature is an abstract theory that has no actual independent existence. What exists is the individual man or woman who is a concrete representative of that abstract human nature. Secondly, wholeness must be an intrinsic development of the individual, not an external attachment.

Incidentally, in order to complete the analysis it should be noted that a more liberal patriarchal theory on the nature of man and woman would have something in common with the "complimentary" theory of the pseudo feminists. The liberal patriarch would hold that the so called "masculine" and "feminine" qualities compliment each other but that women are inferior to men because their sex stereotyped characteristics are innate and inferior to the characteristics of the male.

The true feminist view is that human characteristics are not sex oriented or stereotyped by sex. Rather, any human being can develop the qualities that we call human. The development is intrinsic and wholeness is a healthy balance of the various human characteristics. Of course there are differences between human persons. These are individual differences. These individual differences can be similar between men and women. They are not based on gender. They can be learned or innate.

A true feminist theory would acknowledge that socialization which has been sex stereotyped has brought about some de facto differentiation in some characteristics between some men and some women. These differences are not innate. They are learned, the result of a cultural socializing process. For example, it is probably true to say that more men are domineering than are some women and that more women are submission than are some men. As a result true feminism would work for a society that would foster the optimum development of the individual, regardless of sex.

There is another closely related item that should be brought out explicitly. True feminists want women to participate fully in every aspect of society because it is the birth right of women to do so and not just because women have something special to give to society. Because of sex role stereotyping and the socialization used to maintain it, women and men do often have a different experience of life and women do often tend to develop certain characteristics according to sex classification. For this reason at the present time when the society is so male orientated women do often have something to add to society. But nevertheless, women's liberation is first of all and fundamentally, a question of justice. This is very important because justice if the only reason which will stand up to every challenge to the liberation of women.

The currently widespread theory about human characteristics is that some human characteristics are masculine and some are feminine. And so human wholeness is divided. Because the patriarch holds the male is superior to the female, the human characteristic assigned to the female that are called feminine are said to be inferior to those qualities assigned to the male and called masculine. For example: aggression is necessary for dominance. The male develops this characteristic, calls it masculine, and assigns it opposite, timidity, to femininity. Women are then said to be naturally fearful and lacking in courage.

The patriarchal society then promotes and extols these so-called masculine attributes. Qualities considered masculine are valued; qualities considered feminine are devalued or even held in contempt. For example, early in life we socialize our children into sex-stereotyped roles by value-laden remarks. Meant to be praise to the girl child we often say, "That's pretty good for a girl: or "You so that like a boy". Or to the boy child, and meant to be ridicule: "You do that like a girl". If a boy cries we often say: "Boys don't cry" and thereby socialize the little boy into a hardness, toughness and insensitivity. We teach the little boy how to be "masculine" and we place a high value on the qualities we consider masculine. (Remember, women as well as men, teach their sons such artificial and unnatural masculinity.) At the same time we allow the girl child some of her natural sensitive qualities. When a girl is young we more or less allow her to be active "like a boy". We say she is a "tom boy". But when she reaches puberty we expect her to become "feminine". We have very little toleration for her if she does not conform to the social notions of femininity.

In the patriarchal society masculinity becomes the norm. Even the woman who wants to succeed in her own right must become masculinized and the women of the society value the masculine qualities and devalue the feminine qualities just as much as do the men. Thus the society becomes over masculinized, and a false masculinity takes over. Because the so-called female qualities are held in such low esteem, these qualities are almost systematically wiped out of society and its members.

Thus society becomes unbalanced. Aggression, competition and toughness mark the society. Pity, mercy, [i]nsensitivity cooperation and consideration or concern for others have no place in the over masculinized society. War, waste and pollution are the natural consequences. Destruction of the universe is the ultimate result.

The Omnipotent Patriarch

One cannot think or write about patriarchy without considering patriarchal religion and the effect such religion has on the oppression of women. Religion cannot be ignored. It seems to be very deep in the human psyche and its effect is widespread in both the individual and in society. Feminists must come to face squarely the fact the men have created an "omnipotent patriarch" by making God into the male image and by divinizing maleness. Men have also put words into the mouth of God about the supposed inferiority of women. All this has caused serious harm to women for which some men in positions of power must take responsibility. For the future some of the erroneous teachings and practices of religion can be corrected and changed by acknowledging their cultural origins and by realizing that an anti-woman tradition is not consonant with authentic religious values. However to change the tradition of religion is to challenge the authoritarianism of religion. This is very difficult and will take a long time. Since justice is at stake the delay may be too long to bear at this late date.

The real problem, however, is the maleness and divinity of Jesus, the God-incarnate, of a religion like Christianity. The legitimate (male) authority of Christianity (and Christianity is an authoritarian religion) has declared many times ⁷ that woman cannot participate fully (receive and give all the sacraments) because of the maleness of the God-Christ. In this the male authority of Christianity is correct: if the essence of the incarnate deity is maleness then women cannot represent him adequately and conversely, neither can a male deity represent women adequately. On the other hand if one speculates about the possibility of a female incarnate deity, then we have the problem in reverse. So it seems by refusing any longer to accept a second-class status in Christianity women have sharpened the critique of Christianity. By challenging the maleness of Christ feminists also challenge the uniqueness and hence the divinity of Christ.

Our Last Hope

Feminism is our hope against the unbridled masculinization of patriarchy. Knowledge is the power we need to exorcise the demon of patriarchy.

Feminism can bring about a more balanced society. It can correct the over masculinization of society and end the oppression of women. But it will not do this by making women into men, or for that matter, by making men into women. The male of patriarchy is defective, not the model.

Feminism seeks a new being, a balanced personality: for the first time, a truly human being.

The justice truth and goodness of feminism will make it attractive. When we understand this we still denounce pseudo feminism and embrace true feminism. When we see that only true feminism can liberate women and men from the restrictions of sex role stereotyping and foster the optimum human development of each individual regardless of sex, and when we become aware that feminism aims to make us free to be ourselves, we will become feminists.

When it becomes clear that feminism can humanize society we will value feminism. Finally, when we realize that feminism may be our last hope to save our species and the world from its own self-destruction we will become sisters. Then sisterhood will be powerful enough to exorcise the demon of patriarchy.

Matriarchal Model of FamilyQuestion to Mistress Peggy Sue :

As a regular visitor of your website, I'd like to ask you one question: What is your opinion about parenthood ?

Personally I'm very much in favor of traditional family life. That is to say, in my view the ideal environment for a child is a family with a caring mother and a caring father. It may well be the case that society is better off with female-dominated family life. But I am afraid that the ultimate consequence of "matriarch" thinking is the wholesale abandonment of father/mother families. As you phrase it: women are the ones who give birth to children and who raise them. So why would there be a role for fathers ?

I think this might be a very important issue for the near future. Do you have an opinion on this ?

Reply of Mistress Peggy Sue :

I think you have misunderstood what I have said about female led families. I never said that women should solely raise children. What you are paraphrasing is my observations about how nature implants into males the desire for loving female authority as female authority figures discipline and nurture young boys as a natural function of the rearing of children. Women are by nature loving and nurturing toward children yet female authority figures often must also be disciplinarians in order to properly train and guide children toward proper behavior. The combination of a woman being both strict and nurturing implants the desire within young boys for female domination once they become adults. That is a far cry from saying that women should solely raise children.

I agree with you that children need both a caring mother and a caring father. But how does a female led marriage prevent men from being caring fathers? Are you saying that men must be in charge in order for them to be a good parent? A father can earn a living and thus assist in the financial needs of the family. A father can do household chores to assist in the domestic needs of the family. A father can spend both quality and quantity time with his children to assist in the emotional needs of the children. I don't see how the woman being in charge would prevent the father from his family and marital responsibilities.

In fact, as I have pointed out many times before, a family where the father is in submission to the mother is the healthiest family model for children (in my opinion). The submissive man is less likely to neglect his children and his family responsibilities if he is accountable to the dominant wife. A husband who is under the control of his wife will be more attentive to his financial, domestic and family responsibilities. The mother who has regular discipline and domination sessions with her husband (behind closed doors, away from the children) will demand obedience from him and will use her position of authority over him to ensure that he fulfills his family responsibilities.

Contrast this with most so-called traditional patriarchal families and I think you will find that the submissive husband is a better role model for children. Look at how many single mother homes exist in our society because the father has neglected his parental responsibilities. Look at how many fathers become workaholics and use the excuse of their careers to justify neglecting their families. Look at how many men in our society impregnate women but never assume their parental responsibilities. Men are neglecting their family obligations at an epidemic proportion in our so-called patriarchal society. So why would you be fearful of a matriarchal society? It seems that the so-called traditional family model is failing in today's society, as both parents must make a living to keep up with the financial responsibilities of the family.

Is your concern that the career woman will not be as nurturing toward her children than she otherwise would be if she were a stay at home mom? Today's financial challenges almost make it a necessity for both parents to earn a living unless one of the spouses makes a comfortable enough living to afford the other spouse to stay home with the children. Thus, it is more vital than ever that the father fulfills his family responsibilities. The career mother needs a submissive husband who will assist her with the rearing of the children and the domestic chores around the house. Our current society is in need of a female led marriage because men need loving female authority in order to fulfill their parental and husbandly responsibilities. A man who is not under the authority of a woman is more likely to neglect his family obligations.

Studies have shown that men are far more likely to leave their children and neglect their obligations than women. No matter how career minded a woman may become, it is very rare for a woman to neglect her children. The natural nurturing instinct of the female keeps her children's well-being at the forefront of her thoughts. A career woman is every bit as capable of providing the proper amount of nurturing to her children as the stay at home mother. Unfortunately, many mothers are stressed out because the father is not pulling his weight. A female domination marriage ensures that the father pulls his weight and then some as the dominant wife ensures her husband fulfills his obligations by dominating him in the bedroom. What takes place in the bedroom will usually carry over into life outside the bedroom.

Finally, a couple important observations need to be made. If a woman decides she wants to be a stay at home mother, that does not mean she cannot still be the head of her marriage. Some women demand that their husbands earn the finances to support the family while the dominant wife chooses to spend more time with her children. Such a family model can still be a female domination marriage. Then there is also the growing family model where the wife chooses to work because her earning potential is far greater than her husband but she demands that her husband be a stay at home father in order to maintain her home and care for the needs of the children. Again, this family model works best in a female domination marriage, as the submissive husband is more likely to be at ease as a stay at home father if his wife is dominating him.

The bottom line is that in a female led marriage, the female makes these decisions and the male obeys her decisions. Because the female is nurturing toward her children, she will make decisions that are best for her children and she will use her authority to ensure that her submissive husband fulfills his family responsibilities. Thus, the children are raised by both parents in a home full of harmony and love.

Sex : Fact or Fiction ?

If you don't have an orgasm, the sex was bad.

FICTION

It depends on you: some women expect to experience an orgasm every time they have sex, while others are content with the intimacy and pleasure of the overall experience. It's healthier to consider an orgasm as icing on the cake. Consider that one-quarter of women have never had an orgasm, says Dr. Stephen Holzapfel, medical director of the Sexual Medicine Counseling Unit at the Women's College Campus of Sunnybrook and Women's College Health Sciences Centre in Toronto

Men are always ready for sex and have a higher sex drive than women.

FICTION

Even though 30 percent of women aged 20–60 are concerned about lowered desire — in fact, it's their biggest concern — it also worries 15 percent of men, says Dr. Holzapfel. That said, although this stereotype can be true, so can the reverse. Some women have higher drives than their partner. Yet, sometimes the pressure to emulate stereotypes (man as the easily roused sex fanatic and woman as the demure damsel) forces us to suppress our true desires. Ladies, don't be afraid to channel that passionate lover—even if it's more often than not.

People in relationships rarely masturbate.

FICTION

Here's the scoop: most men and many women masturbate whether they are in long-term relationships or not. Although true numbers are unknown—many people are reluctant to tell all—chances are if you were comfortable masturbating before your relationship, you still are, says Joan Marsman, a couples and sex therapist in Toronto. Only now, the bonus is that masturbation can be an activity you do together—or a useful standby when your partner is just not in the mood.

If a woman can't achieve orgasm, something may be wrong.

FACT

There isn't anything medically wrong with not being able to achieve orgasm, but other factors (some medical) may be playing a role: inadequate stimulation, personal inhibitions, lack of privacy (young kids or teens), fatigue, stress, depression or medications for depression, relationship issues or other health problems. Inability to orgasm can also be as simple as just not feeling like it—and if you're content, then there is no problem. On the other hand, maybe all you need is to learn how to achieve orgasm. If you and your partner want to work on this, Dr. Robert Reid, a professor of obstetrics and gynecology and chair of the division of reproductive endocrinology and infertility at Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., recommends "bibliotherapy": buy a book and get busy! A couple to consider: For Yourself: The Fulfillment of Female Sexuality by Lonnie Barbach and Becoming Orgasmic by

Julia Heiman and Joseph LoPiccolo.

FACT

“Although it does not hurt to know where all the parts are and what to do with them, most people want more than a technical performance. Ingredients such as desire, good communication and caring are also important,” says Marsman. And, as a result of that interaction, your partner recognizes your hot buttons and knows how to press them. Hint: build your own sexual “language” (actions, words, moans) so that you can convey to your other half when something’s done right. That way, it’s a no-brainer next time.

If you have sex in water, you can get stuck.

FICTION

“Only if there is quicksand,” says Dr. Holzapfel. The lone side effect of having a go at it in water is that lubrication can sometimes be reduced, as water dilutes vaginal lubrication, making penetration feel drier.

There is no such thing as the G-spot.

FICTION

An inch inside and on the front wall of the vagina is an area full of nerve endings, however, there is actually some debate over the famed site’s existence. Many women who find it very pleasurable to have this spot stimulated during sex are certain to vouch for its reality, though!

Sex burns as many calories as a good workout at the gym.

FICTION

Oh, don't we wish. Although sex is a physical activity, unless your tryst is a workout in itself, you better not go trading your cardio gear for lingerie. Sex does, in fact, burn calories, but the amount depends on how active you are during sex. The duration and intensity of sexual activity for most people would not equal the calories burned during a Spinning class, or even a low-impact aerobics workout, for that matter.

Fantasizing about another while having sex with your partner means you aren't really attracted to your significant other.

FICTION

Do not fear, dreaming about Orlando or Brad while you're making love to your mate is perfectly normal. Often, fantasizing improves the excitement of a sexual encounter and does not imply a lack of interest for the person you're with. Better yet, if you find your partner amenable, try sharing a fantasy as an enhancement that you can both enjoy.

II - TRAINING OF MALES

How To Train Your Man, by A Satisfied Woman

That ruse about "the way to a man's heart" has it all wrong. Any woman who's slaved to make her husband an elaborate meal knows that he's more likely to conk out on the couch than whisk you off to the bedroom afterwards. After you've been married for a while, you learn what should have always seemed obvious: the way to a man's heart is through his zipper, not his paunch !

Fact is, once you sexually arouse a man, he'll turn circus tricks for the privilege of a ride on his queen's throne. By exploiting this fact -- and tempting him and teasing him with sexy suggestiveness, you can have him on his knees begging you to allow him to kiss your feet, wait on you, clean for you, satisfy you sexually, even humiliate himself for you, if need be. The possibilities are endless. For men go absolutely ga-ga when confronted with a take-charge woman. Sexually aggressive women get what they want in life from their men, and that goes way beyond the bedroom. Making your man beg for your good graces makes him even more aroused, more beholden to your charms, and (best of all) more willing to do your bidding.

Here are some ideas, to help you tease and tantalize him, until he's willing to do anything you want him to do. Try this routine with him tonight and you'll own him -- mind, body and soul -- as of tomorrow morning !

1. Invite him up to your bedroom and undress him -- while you stand before him in your sexiest outfit. Ask him if he's been a "good boy" for you as you run your fingernails between his thighs.

2. Ask him to kneel down to rub your tired feet. Then tell him that he may kiss them if he wishes to. Allow him to kiss your feet, all the way up your legs, to the crux of your thighs, a part of your anatomy, which will now be referred to as his "place of privilege." Stroke his hair and ask him if he's "earned his place."

3. Turn around and have him give your bottom a smooch, to demonstrate his sincerity.

4. Tie his hands behind his back with a silken scarf. Then have him attempt to undress you with his mouth/teeth. If he slobbers, give him a playful smack across the face. He mustn't muss his lady !

5. By the way : Don't let him touch or otherwise arouse himself. That's what those beautifully manicured fingernails of yours are for! Use them to keep him aroused.

6. Now have him take his place at your feet while you read a romance novel or watch a sexy movie. Keep him occupied with a peek at your panties. Once you're in the mood, ask him if he'd like to "kiss his queen's throne."

7. Meanwhile, keep him teased and aroused with your toes. Make sure he has a big stiffy, but only touch it when he needs prodding. Bring him to the brink, but don't let him release ! Use this opportunity to manipulate him deeper into his submissive role. Make him confess his fetishistic desires and proclaim his adulation for you.

8. Avail him to your now-musky panty crotch. Allow him to sniff it. Ask him if he'd like to kiss it. Tell him that if he'd like to cross your panty threshold into the gates of paradise, he's going to have to compose an impromptu "Ode To His Lady's Lair." (If the quality of his verse is abysmal, make him stand on his head and say a nursery rhyme).

9. Allow him to remove your panties with his teeth. Then pull his face toward your lair. Tell him to "kiss" and "lick" on your command. Issue these commands as if you were training a pup. You are! If he disobeys you, gag him with your panties and make him nuzzle you with his nose.

10. When his session of oral servitude is complete to your supreme satisfaction, escort him to your four-poster. Push him down on his back and tie his legs to the bedposts.

11. Straddle him. Sit on his chest and find out what he would do to be allowed to kiss your breasts. Hover over him. Get close enough for him to suckle your nipples, and then pull away. Slap his face. Make him beg.

12. Turn around and avail him to your bottom.

Allow him to kiss your cheeks as you pinch and tickle his joystick. Make him reach with the tip of his tongue to taste the fruit between your legs. Ask him if he's ready to assume the role of your "Personal Ass Kisser" for life. Let him audition for the role. Tell him that whether you make love to him that night depends on the lust and eagerness he exhibits in worshipping your netherhole.

13. By this time, he should be ready to explode. So, naturally you'll want to take a break. Retire to the kitchen for a glass of wine, leaving him to ponder more ways in which he can please his new boss. Drape your moist paints over his face, to give him something to inspire him.

14. When you return, give him a rousing massage between his legs, to stoke those fires within his loins.

15. Verbal stimulation is often very effective, tell him things you might do to reward him, tease him with ideas you know he'd enjoy, threaten to humiliate him if he doesn't satisfy you.

Then grab your riding crop, straddle his hips and take that young buck of yours for the ride of your lives !

Admonishments :

Once he'll "do anything to please you" here's some ideas that will keep hubby attentive, while keeping you blissfully entertained.

1. Have him pamper you. Make him...

- give you a foot/back/full body massage
- give you a pedicure/manicure,
- paint your finger/toe nails.
- bathe you/shave your legs.
- cook and serve you a nice dinner.

2. Make him hand-laundry your panties and lingerie.

3. Make him polish your pumps with his tongue.

4. Make him do the housework: naked, but for his "Hubby" apron and his rubber gloves!

5. Make him wear a collar and lead him around with a leash; Here pooch....Heel! Beg! Roll over...good hubby!

6. Make him earn his rewards; for example: Allow him to kiss your bottom after he does the dishes. 1 minute of pleasure for him for 10 minutes of yours. 1 orgasm for him after he makes you cum 5 times.

7. Spank him 5 times for each minute it takes him to make you climax.

8. Order him to bring himself to the edge of orgasm and stay there until you give him permission. When you give the command he must cum within 5 seconds or he will be punished and/or not allowed to cum at all. (keep him that way for 30 minutes, an hour...or as long as you want)

9. Always make him lick you clean after sex.

10. When You go out, order him to be kneeling at the door for you when You arrive. Give him plenty of chores to do while you're gone.

Punishments :

If he's not performing to your satisfaction, or you just feel the need to assert yourself...

1. Spank him. (wooden spoon, hair brush, belt, ruler, ping pong paddle.)

2. Double up on his domestic chores, make them more difficult: make him use a toothbrush to clean the toilet.

3. Deny him orgasms for a long period of time (days, weeks?).

4. Humiliate him in public...take him shopping for sissy panties/lingerie.

If at first you're apprehensive about taking the reins of your relationship, just relax and start small. Try this: after work tonight, tell hubby to pour you a glass of wine and give you a foot massage. Then let one of your stockinged feet worm it's way between his knees. In just a few seconds, you're going to have a completely compliant man on your hands. Have fun with your power over him! Once you're comfortable calling the shots, you'll feel as if you'd been doing it for years. And, believe it or not, he's going to love it, too!

I. Clothing the sub can be made to wear :

1. Black or dark colored bra under thin white shirt.
2. Black or dark colored panties under thin white pants or shorts.
3. Pantyhose worn with shorts.
4. Wear a frilly bikini at the beach. [or just the bottom.]
5. Naked or dressed in lingerie beneath a cape or raincoat.
6. Wearing an obviously feminine blouse (malesubs).
7. Little girls' dresses with high heels
8. Baby hats/bonnets.
9. Obvious female flat heel shoes, worn with everyday male clothing.
10. Standard male shirt, tie, jacket, with obvious female trousers.
11. Diapers, noisy plastic pants.
12. High heels.
13. No underwear or lingerie, while wearing very thin white or light colored pants, shorts, or skirt.

II. Toys :

1. Slave collar (can add owner tag.)
2. Narrow cat collar with bell.

3. Single handcuff on each wrist.
4. Butt plugs. Can be worn at a business meeting.
5. Feminine necklaces and bracelets.
6. Feminine rings.
7. Cock rings.
8. Baby pacifier. Carry or tied around neck. There is a doggie "squeek toy" like this available.
9. Baby rattle.
10. Nipple clips. [even better when seen through a sheer shirt or blouse]
11. Clip on earrings [for the pierced impaired.]
12. A "kitty" collar with bell, worn around the cock and balls.

III. Shopping scenes. (The assumption here is that it should be obvious the purchases are for the sub.)

1. Shopping for and trying on lingerie or dresses.
2. Trying on high heels while wearing nylons or pantyhose under male clothing. Works better at times other than Halloween.
3. Shopping for makeup, perfumes, and other female items.
4. At adult toy stores, purchasing buttplugs, cock rings, and BD gear, while she watches from a distance. [see #7]
5. Having a manicure or facial.
6. Buying adult incontinent supplies. [works for both genders]. Have the sub ask the clerk what size would fit best.
7. You are taken shopping for a new bondage outfit at one of those famous stores [insert shameless plug for Stormy

Leather in San Francisco. Hey, forgive me, it is the one store I never miss when I am working in the City.]

8. She walks up to him in the check out line at the grocery store, holding a pair of pantyhose and says "these are what I picked up for you to wear tonight. Ok?"

IV. Other activities or scenes :

1. Must use "Mistress", Madame", or "Ma'am" at all times.
2. Handcuffed to the shopping cart, while shopping.
3. Handcuffed or tied to a pole outside store. (waiting for Mistress)
4. Handcuffed, hands in front or back, while shopping.
5. Metal cock rings, collars, chains, or leashes when going through airport security.
6. Having him get a good tan while wearing a bra, for later exposure at the beach or while washing the car without a shirt.
7. When at a restaurant, eating in an unusual way; being fed by the Mistress; using your non- dominant hand, no utensils.
8. Forbidden to speak in public.
9. Kneeling and kissing her boots, shoes, feet, or hands, at odd moments.
10. Kneeling, massaging her feet at the mall.
11. One arm tied or cuffed under your shirt. Or cuffed obviously behind you.
12. Pockets cut out of pants, and hands tied or cuffed to your thighs so you can't remove them from the pockets.
13. Binding your cock inside your pants with the string or rope end available to tug on.

14. Wearing a vibrating butt plug, with the controls in your pocket or available for her use. [still dreaming of a source for a remote control plug ;} A Vibrating Beeper was recently suggested]

15. Your right [left?] hand is tied to your cock and balls through a hole in your pocket. Might look like you are playing with yourself.

16. Being forced to masturbate beneath the table cloth while at a restaurant.

17. You both are sitting in a restaurant, dressed completely normal. She hands you a bag of 'stuff' and tells you to go to the restroom and change. You worry that everyone who enters will know what you are doing.

18. You are sitting drinking a beer or apple juice. When the glass is empty, she orders you to take it to the men's room and fill it up. You must return and then consume your "new" beverage with your meal.

19. You must take your beverage to the men's room, masturbate, and cum in the glass/cup. Return and then consume it, This would also work with the special sauce from that famous place.

20. You have to take your panties or underpants off, return to the table and hand them to her. She leaves them on the table in plain view.

21. On a special evening, as you travel around in a rented limousine, you are required to masturbate, trying not to be seen by the driver.

22. You are required to masturbate in your panties and continue wearing them, disregarding any spots that may appear.

23. You are diapered, taken out to a restaurant or bar and have to consume a large quantity of liquid, and are not allowed to use the restroom.
24. Traveling by car naked or dressed in lingerie.
25. You are obviously hand cuffed to the car as you travel, or are parked waiting for her to finish shopping. A key can be attached to a thread for emergency purposes.
26. Wearing lipstick or make up so that it appears you have just tried to remove it, but missed some.
27. Having your picture taken in Santa's lap at Christmas time.
28. She hands the controls of your vibrating plug, dildo to another person.
29. Having to show another person what you are wearing beneath the raincoat or cape.
30. Shining her boots at the mall.
31. She spansks you.
32. She slaps you.
33. You have to kiss the ground whenever you leave a car.
34. You kiss the seat of her chair whenever she stands.
35. Ordering warm milk, or some other almost impossible item, claiming dietary need.
36. You have to eat a bite of something that has had an ash flicked on it.
37. You are taken on a nature walk, tied to a tree, for a quickie spanking.
38. One hand is cuffed to the chair or table when you are eating.
39. At a cocktail lounge, you have to sit at the bar next to the serving station and you are cuffed to the rail.

40. You are instructed to eat a meal alone, reading a copy of Domination Directory International, other Dominatrix publication, or a transvestite magazine.
41. Smoking long, obviously feminine cigarettes.
42. In a parking lot or similar location, just before you will be safely hidden from spectators, she has you pause and wet yourself. You have to walk the last few yards with wet clothes.
43. On your 'x' anniversary, you renew your wedding vows, this time you are dressed as the bride.
44. When you travel alone, you are required to leave lingerie or stockings drying in the bathroom.
45. You are instructed to buy a Halloween maid's costume. Whenever you travel you must leave it hanging in the hotel room along with your regular clothing. Leaving a pair of high heels out would work too.
46. Tape rough felt or very fine sandpaper inside a shirt over the nipples. Effect should be stimulation, not damage.
47. Reciting all your rules in front of others, at her whim.
48. Temporary "slave" tattoos or other markings, hidden or not.
49. Always walking a foot or two behind her. Speeding up to open doors.
50. She pays for everything, with possible comments like "Oh I never allow him to carry money!"
51. If no seats are available, puts you on all fours and sits on your back.
52. Doing some of the "hidden" little things like plugs, nipple clamps, cock rings, in the church of her/your choice.

- 53. Keeping your legs shaved.
- 54. Keeping the genitals shaved.
- 55. Having ribbons/bows braided into the genital hair.
- 56. Carrying a doll around, brushing its hair, playing with it.
- 57. When dining out, sub is not allowed to order, is fed little bites from her plate.
- 58. While she is sitting on a chair, you sit on pool deck beside her, even though there are chairs available next to you.
- 59. Wear a cock ring with a very long, strong, almost invisible thread attached. She can pull on this anytime. Use it like a leash.

There are many methods of CBT and, depending on the pain threshold or erotic tendencies of the individual, some can be very dramatic.

I. Squeezing

The testicles are perhaps the most sensitive area of man's genitals as well as the most fragile. Any activity involving the testicles should be undertaken carefully and with consideration given to the individuals welfare.

Mistakes can lead to ruptures, tears, or other disfiguring and disabling results.

One form of ball torture is simply squeezing them between the palm of one hand, as if squeezing a rubber ball. By pulling down on the testicles before squeezing them, they rest at the bottom of the sack and can be squeezed more effectively. Start with a gentle pressure and work up from there until your partner has reached his threshold.

While squeezing the balls you can manipulate them in your palm, causing them to rub slightly against one another. This rubbing presses on nerves that lie on the outsides of each testicle and causes a sharp shooting pain which travels up into the abdomen.

II. Slapping

Slapping is another painful method of ball torture. While the sack of the testicles hangs loose, gently but firmly slap them from side to side. The testicles will bounce within the sack when they are slapped causing immense pain so it is wise not to slap them with too much force.

You can also tie up the balls with a length of rope, tubing, or leather straps. To do this, gather the testicles in one hand and gently pull down. With the other hand, wrap the rope or other restraint device just above the balls and tie off. Once this is accomplished, tap lightly with the fingers on the now taut sides of the testicles.

The testicles are subject to rupture easily when they are bound so it is important that you do not use too much force during this activity. Also, the testicles should not remain bound for extended periods of time as blood flow may be restricted.

III. Pinching

The skin around the testicles is more sensitive while bound and pinching them with fingernails or tweezers can also prove to be very painful. Scraping the nails or other implements over the tightened skin of the sack is also deemed painful.

Use a ball point pen to write or draw on the bound testicles. This produces sensations that vary from sensual to painful, depending on the amount of pressure applied.

You might also try a tracing wheel (can be purchased at sewing centers for under $2.00) to trace over the surface of the bound testicles. Again, the amount of pressure used determines the reaction you will get. You may even try placing the tracing wheel in the freezer for a few hours before hand.

Any instrument may be used in this manner, however, you may want to avoid anything that would cut or puncture the skin.

IV. Clamps

There are various devices which can be used to clamp the skin around the testicles. Nipple clamps, clothes pins, and binder clips are just a few useful things that you can use. Leaving these on for a period of time allows the subject to adjust to the pressure that is being applied to the area. However, when the clamps are removed, the experience will be extremely painful.

If you use clothespins, try purchasing the plastic ones that have holes in their ends. These can be applied over the entire sack of the testicles and then laced together with string or thin rope. Once they are all laced together, you can pluck at the various strings and produce pain in more specific areas all along the sack.

Binder clips (purchased at office supply stores) will perhaps produce the most pain without the use of weights.

However, these can be adjusted by prying them apart giving you an assortment of pressures to use on your submissive.

Nipple clamps (purchased through catalogs and fetish stores) come in a large variety. The butterfly clamps are nice because they can be easily weighted. The alligator clip variety can be adjusted to produce from mild to extreme discomfort.

Regardless of where you purchase your clips, be sure to wash them first in warm soapy water and then sterilize them with alcohol before using. This cuts down on bacteria that may have been picked up during packaging and shipping. And, always clean your toys after each play session.

V. Weights

Weights can be added to clamps that have been attached to the sack of the testicles. A good source for weights is a store that sells fishing tackle. By choosing fishing weights of various sizes and weights, you can make the experience more challenging for the submissive.

By threading small rope or twine through the weights and tying them off, you have a weighting system that can be readily added to the clamps, a piece at a time.

Also, fishing weights come in various sizes, shapes, and weights which allows you to challenge your submissive to take more each time you play.

Other sources for weights are the hardware store. You can purchase nuts in varying sizes and weights that are also easily threaded with twine or rope, making it easy to use them during play time.

To store your weights, simply drive a nail in a closet wall out of sight and hang them from it.

VI. Parachutes

Parachutes are usually made of leather and can be purchased through most fetish catalogs or stores catering to the BDSM scene. A parachute attaches between the testicles and the penis and has three chains that come together just under the testicles. These chains are usually joined together with a circular link so that weights can be attached. Though not necessarily painful, most men who enjoy CBT find the constant tug on their testicles to be erotic. Also, men can be made to walk around while wearing the weights dangling between their thighs.

The parachute can also be turned inside out while the testicles are still in them, producing a mushroom looking effect of the testicles. Parachutes can be purchased in one-size-fits all, however, when possible it's best to have them made to your specific size and requirements. You can have attachments added to your parachute if it is made for you.

When having a parachute custom made, consider having studs sewn into the side that will sit against the testicles. This causes discomfort, especially after weights have been added or when worn under clothing.

VII. Binding

Binding the testicles can be accomplished in several ways. While pulling down on the testicles, you can use rope, twine or leather straps, wrapping it repeatedly around the sack then tying it off. This wrapping causes some stretching and separation and can present a very pleasing sight.

The testicles can also be separated and each tied into its own little sack. Start with the lowest hanging testicle first and once it is firmly tied move to the next. Once both testicles are separately tied, wrap rope above both causing them to be pushed together. You must be careful tying off the testicles because blood flow can be interrupted to the area over a period of time, causing damage. You might also want to choose multi-color rubber bands to tie off the testicles with.

You can also purchase leather ball straps in varying sizes that can be placed around the balls, although these are usually made of leather and over time will stretch.

VIII. Mummification

Mummification is not just for whole body. The testicles can be wrapped and completely encased in rope, gauze, cloth strips, or even packaging tape. Be cautious when striking the testicles in this state as again they are tightly bound and could be damaged easily. If you are using gauze, start at the top of the sack and work your way down. This puts more pressure into the sack of the testicles when you are finished.

When using tape you don't need to worry too much about how tight you should get it as the real torture starts when you remove it. Old bed linens and pillow cases make excellent binding material and can be washed and used again after each play session.

IX. Waxing

Waving the balls is another way to produce pain. Choose either soft or hard wax, depending on the temperature you prefer. A soft wax will melt quicker and cooler while the hard wax will burn slow and hot. Drip the wax slowly and at intervals all along the surface of either loose or tied testicles.

Shaving the testicles beforehand will make them more sensitive and makes wax removal less of a chore. Of course, if you don't choose to shave your submissive, he's in store for a harrowing time while the wax is removed.

You might try removing the wax with a dull edged butter knife for more sensation or giving the testicles a hard squeeze will break up the wax and allow you to slowly peel it off in small sections.

Wax retains heat so you can pour on several layers at a time without worry of serious burns.

— Penis Torture —

The penis can be tortured in a variety of ways also, however, it is important to note once again that this is an area that is susceptible to damage. Caution should be exercised with the following activities.

I. Whipping

Whipping the penis can be done while it is soft or hard. When the penis is in full erection, blood vessels are enlarged so it is important that you are careful in doing this exercise. A ruptured vessel takes a lengthy time to heal and can sometimes interfere with future erections.

You can use any type of whip that you so desire as long as you do not use too much force. Striking the penis with the tips of the whip is preferable since any other motion will produce a wrapping effect.

Some companies make a short whip that often times resembles a key chain. This whip is quite effective in administering pain given it's small size.

Another suggestion would be to purchase some shoe laces (found at most stores) and tie them together creating a home made whip. The plastic tips at the end of the shoelaces can cause great pain to the submissive when they make contact with the skin. This type of whip is also effective because you can design it to a length that you can handle comfortably. Another way to make your own whip is to buy leather shoe laces and braid them together. This makes a short, easily handled whip that will have more weight to it.

II. Waxing

Totally encasing the penis in wax of various colors can be enjoyable to the Top as well as the bottom. Again, you must decide between hard and soft wax. Soft wax molds more easily to the surface of the penis and can be layered.

As the wax is layered heat is held in close to the skin on the penis and can be very erotic to the submissive.

Removing sections of the wax is easier if you start with a softer wax. You can take out sections and rewax while the rest is still cooling.

If you are feeling very creative, place a birthday candle at the very tip of the penis when you start waxing and coat the wax at the base until it stands firmly in place. (Be careful not to shove the candle into the urethra.)

Once you have finished waxing the entire surface of the penis, light the birthday candle and watch it's progress. It will drop down onto the existing wax, heating things up again.

III. Binding

The penis can be bound with rope, leather, chain, gauze, or packing tape in much the same manner as the testicles. Binding the penis while soft keeps it from reaching erection and can be an added tool of torture while engaging in other activities. Cock straps are also available in leather and can be fitted onto the penis before it is hard to prevent erection.

Another idea is to place as many condoms on the penis as possible. Each condom will add pressure to the penis as well as cutting down on the amount sensation that the submissive can feel through them. I suggest purchasing cheaper priced condoms for this activity, however, do not use these same condoms for protection purposes.

Non-lubricated condoms produce the greatest amount of discomfort to the submissive.

Difference between Discipline and Punishment
(by slave christopher of Mistress Peggy Sue)

The definitions :

Discipline : (n) a field of learning, training and conditioning to produce obedience and self-control ; punishment; the maintenance of order and obedience as a result of punishment ; a system of rules and behaviour

(vt) to punish to enforce discipline; to train by instruction; to bring under control

Punishment : (n) a penalty for a crime or misdemeanor; rough treatment ; the act of punishment or being punished.

Now that we've established the rules by definition.
 Let us see :

A) Why do they overlap ?

B) How does discipline affect a slave and his Mistress ?

C) How is each administered to a slave and under what circumstances ?

The reason they overlap is in the bold part of the definitions, as a mistress must use punishment to enforce discipline when the slave commits an act of defiance...e.g. looking her in the eyes, refusing to bow down, etc.

In these cases the definition of punishment must be used to enforce the obedience necessary to have a complacent and compliant slave. As my Mistress does to me when I have committed an offense and my daughters join in when asked. Now the punishment from me can vary from being bound and gagged outside for hours in rainy weather to being cropped by all three for 30 –45 minutes to being sexually frustrated.

Thus the two definitions overlap but only in this situation.

Now we come to the second question that being the effect discipline has on the slave and his mistress.

When a slave is disciplined the mistress is training him, as she cannot have a willfully disobedient slave on her hands. Such behaviour would undermine her position of authority and would give the other weaker slaves the backbone to stand up to her. If this happened then she has lost all control and would be in danger of being a slave herself to her previous slaves.

She must move quickly and decisively to quell any thoughts of rebellion and by applying the right discipline tailored to the offense her slaves will see that she is fair but tough and they will fall in line.

The effect is immediate on the slave as he sees that there is no way he is going to get away with any shenanigans as his mistress is on top of the situation which will make his training easier.

The effect on the mistress is one of pride in her for not letting the defiance get out of control and she can now proceed with the disciplined training that she has created and tailor made for each slave's character and traits. Once this is done it becomes easier to refine the training and less discipline is used, as is the case with me. The more I let Peggy Sue control me and my daughters use my mistresses' training techniques on me the easier it is to mold and meld me into the devoted slave that I now am.

As I now have a fourth Mistress, Peggy's twin sister Kathleen my servitude has increased as she is demanding my services on a regular basis causing my mistress to make allowances and to schedule time for me to serve all four of them. As a result of this and my military training I have been able to endure more and am able to push myself past the limits previously set for me by Peggy Sue. This would include my ability to be a 2 legged horse for longer periods of time as each would ride me one after the other with no break or rest period and my military training in Vietnam and in the Air Force Reserve has toughened my ability to withstand punishment.

Now the third question to be answered is how each is applied to the slave. In my case the discipline is in a form of training as my mistresses' want to try out new or innovative techniques on me to see if the new methods would work on me and help me to be even a more devoted and loving slave that I am already. My mistresses' will discipline me via training to follow the path that they desire for me.

The punishment part is used when I slip up and not follow the rules and cause my Peggy Sue to be humiliated and must save face by punishing me. She will do this by herself or farm it out to Justine, Rebecca, Kathleen or any combination and there would be no limits on the punishment and I have been punished severely quite a few times.

In fact Rebecca is the hardest punisher, as she has had to be held back at times whereas Justine will punish but only according to the crime, as she is a lawyer. Kathleen and Peggy Sue fall in between but all have punished me the most during their periods or menopause when they are at their bitchiest.

I trust that this will answer questions in detail regarding Mistress Peggy Sue. Mistress Peggy Sue has read it over and given her seal of approval and has rewarded me with an upcoming lesson in punishment which will consist of several whacks on my ass with one leather gloved hand while her other leather gloved hand has my balls in a vice like grip while I am bent over a chair bound and ballgagged.

III - MALE SUBMISSIVENESS

About male servitude

First what is on my website is me...
<http://mistresspcggysuc.com/>

To submit to me means to acknowledge that I am your Domme without the collar.

The primary mission, after family and/or job, is to tell others about me and my brand of domination.

By contacting me you are asking to become submissive to me.

“I believe that men should be handed over to a female controlled authority who will guide them in their subservience to women.”

“It is not intelligence that causes men to be puzzled when with women as many men are incredibly intelligent but it is the non-intelligent use of their intelligence that causes men to become befuddled around women.”

To make a submissive feel worthy of his servitude the Domme SHOULD thank him periodically for his devotion.

A submissive is worthy for his servitude.

As slaves or submissives each of you is worthy of respect according to the servitude and duties you carry out... NEVER FORGET THAT !

It is not the size of the cock that counts but how it is used that is important.

BE PROUD THAT YOU ARE A SUBMISSIVE IN A MALE DOMINATED WORLD AND NEVER FEEL GUILTY ABOUT THIS CONDITION OF YOURS AS MANY OTHER MEN HAVE IT BUT WILL REFUSE TO ADMIT SUCH.

You will find a Domme but looking for a Domme is like looking for a JOB... you have to look and sell yourself... think of it as a job interview.

Slavery is not about suffering . . .
. . . slavery is about service.

Slavery is not about humiliation . . .
. . . slavery is about humility.

Slavery is not about pain . . .
. . . slavery is about being present.

Slavery is not about being used . . .
. . . slavery is about being of use.

Slavery is not about control . . .
. . . slavery is about letting go.

Slavery is not about your desires . . .
. . . slavery is about giving to others.

Slavery is not about abuse . . .
. . . slavery is about acceptance.

Slavery is not about proving anything . . .
. . . slavery is about being real.

Slavery is not about contempt . . .
. . . slavery is about respect.

Slavery is not about how you look . . .
. . . slavery is about the size of your heart.

Slavery is not about denying yourself . . .
. . . slavery is about being open.

Lastly no slave or submissive, despite being degraded by other Dommcs, is ever to call himself ass licker, cunt, dog, shit eater, toilet boy, bitch, slut, etc., etc., etc. ad nauseum in my presence.

In my picture uploaded to my website the jacket represents control as does the skirt... the boots represent dominance... the gloves represent power.

What is a slave ?

A slave is property of the state. Chattel to be sold bought used and removed if need be. In the new world order slaves have no rights and no voice in their fate they are completely at the mercy of the institution or individual they are assigned or sold to. They can only learn as fast as they can to please their owners. Males in the new order are expected to be deferential obedient and compliant to the whims of the Imperial Females of the new regime.

Living as a slave

Life as a slave of the new regime is a study in training. Every day a slave is punished or humiliated in some way each day, indeed each hour, and in some cases each minute, a male is reminded that he is property helpless to alter his fate or make decisions that affect his life beyond the illusion of choice that some Goddesses grant him simply to torment him and reinforce his true status further. There is pain and torment and bondage aplenty as well as humiliation degradation and shame. Interspersed with the eventually ingrained need to please to do whatever it takes to earn the slightest chance of a reprieve from the life of a slave. A reprieve only a female can grant by a moment of rest an additional scrap of food or water, or in special cases.. her smile and praise at a job well done or a sweet.

Normal and natural

In time the subservience of men to the Goddesses of the New Regime becomes ingrained. natural.....reflexive. It can take longer with some dimmer slaves but eventually all come to learn their place at the feet of an Imperial Female They accept their fate and being to even work towards anticipating and taking the initiative to try to do things above and beyond to try to please their owner. In the beginning this is to try to earn a bit more leniency or mercy but after a time it becomes, (if not squashed right away by those who do not wish their slaves to act without permission), an act of worship to simply try to bring pleasure to ones owner to live to make their life in some way better. Be it by suffering working harder or doing whatever it can a slave comes to regard its subservience as natural and normal. It realizes this is what it was meant to be.

Obedience and "correctness"

A slave learns obedience to the new regime the hard way through mental conditioning and severe discipline. Like any creature it can be trained through mental hardship and reinforcement techniques mixed with severe physical discomfort. Whether the blazing bite of the cane across its rump, the feel of the lash licking fire across its back or thighs or even the severe unyielding bite of hours of bondage the slave learns that is MUST obey or suffer the consequences. It learns that it cannot resist. for a moment. An hour perhaps in extraordinary cases a day but the consistent application of punishment for failure to perform as directed, eventually begins to sink into its thick skull. It learns that to resist is indeed futile. Then the slave begins to accept its place and show proper obedience. So much so that even when being punished or tormented the creature obeys it has no choice. It is ingrained a reflex it cannot escape. In some cases fear and pain can cause it to resist for a short time but in the end the same things that taught it to obey return to it and it surrenders its will to the exquisite female that controls it. The Goddess it has come to learn to worship.

Being open

Being open is one way a slave can be kept in its place constantly reminded of what it is and control over it enforced. As a slave becomes more conditioned it learns that it is required to be open and honest with the Females that control it. They have no such restrictions but woe to the slave that is found to be concealing its feelings or telling a falsehood. Often owners will torment their slaves by forcing them to recount their thoughts dreams fantasies and/or deepest fears. Speaking ones deepest dreams and horrors to your owner places a slave far more in the power of the female who controls it from an emotional and mental stand point as a slave is a creature craving even the slightest of validations. This information is often used against in their training or during the course of the Owners enjoyment in tormenting or punishing the slave. But the slightest hint of deception or concealment is cause for the most severe punishments or worse.

Many Dommcs believe in this and go to great lengths to enforce this type of dominance...

To me, this is not my dominance.

Both men and Women do not have to go down the BDSM/Femdom path to learn acquire a Matriarchal consciousness, but for those who do, this is what generally happens

Stage One

A very patriarchal minded man finds he has deviant and kinky desires for Dominant Women. So he either goes to a Dominatrix or persuades his girl friend or wife to act out this role. At this stage, he is firmly in charge he will tell his partner or Dominatrix what his kinks are and she will act them out for him. For him, he is only satisfying his selfish desires and the Women is accommodating him.

Stage Two

He will at first be able to separate his kinky desire from his 'ordinary' life. So he can go to a Dominatrix to worship or be humiliated by her and then go back to his submissive wife and treat her like a ordinary patriarchal wife. Or if it is his partner he plays these kinky game with, she is only playing a role, but it is he who is still in charge. While the rest of the time they are a 'normal' couple.

But, being whipped or caned by a women, being on the receiving end of a strap-on, being verbally abused, worshipping a woman by kissing her feet or bottom, is going to effect him on the unconscious level.

Some men after awhile will want to take it all to the extreme and want to be really tortured and hurt by the Domina, or even want to eat her shit. Yet no matter how far he goes down this route he finds he is still not satisfied, because extremes like this are a dead-end.

So what he begins to find is that his desire begin to leak outside of the kinky sessions into his 'normal' life.

He may find going to a Dominatrix whom he tells what to do, no longer satisfying and wants one who tells him what to do. He may find he has a desire for his wife to be more dominant and may consciously or unconsciously encourage her to be more like this. So he will find, he want her to dominate him outside of their sessions.

Stage Three

By being worshipped by the man and told; "you are in charge", effects the women on the unconscious level as well. The result is, she begin to take charge of the sessions and begins to tell the man what she prefers. For instance; the man might want to be whipped or caned but she may not get any enjoyment from this, and decide they will do something else instead. Like him practising cunnilingus on her and denying him orgasm. So she find she can start to change things for her benefit and he will comply.

Stage Four

BDSM from a masculine point of view, is just about dominance and submission or sadism and masochism but when the Women take control, she finds she wants to introduce love into this mix. Submission to her is about the desire to give love to another, while dominance is about receiving love. She will also be very interested in the psychologically of the submissive man, and want to know how he feels. So she will introduce him to the idea that he wants to worship and serve her, because he loves her more than himself.

So now, the balance of power is changing and the Women is now taking control, as the fantasy is now changing into a reality.

Stage Five

At stage one the Woman was learning from the man. Now it is the opposite, and the man is now learning from the Women. He begins to learn from her; the Feminine point of view, of the joy of caring and loving others, of devoting your life to make another happy, and empathizing with them. So that their happiness becomes his happiness. Though he may also learn the hard lessons of empathizing with those who are unhappy and learn how to do his best to bring happiness to them.

The Women is now becoming more confidence in her Feminine nature as she sees her man is now far more happier learning from her how to love. She is also now learning how to love herself through the worship and devotion of the man.

Through these stages both Women and men learn how much better life is, if Women are in charge and how much better our world would be if Women ruled the world.

IV - ADVICES TO MALE SLAVES

Pleasing and Pampering a Woman

"I'm going to let you in on a few little secrets from a woman's perspective, and let you know the things many women want.

This is about how you can go about pleasing your wife, lover, and friend. This isn't going to be about what you want, or even fulfilling your desires. This is about learning to give without conditions and expectations. It's totally about what measures you need to take if you wish to truly please and pamper your loved one.

If you are serious about going out of your way to make her happy, you'll set out to find out the things which delight her. When does she seem happiest to you? Most responsive? You've seen it. That beautiful smile when you see her beam brings a mysterious happiness in all the surrounding energy.

You know what I mean. You've brought her flowers for no reason. Stopped by the store on the way home to pick up a pound of her favorite gourmet coffee, just because. You've gotten out of bed at 6:00 a.m. the day you get to sleep in, to shovel half a foot of snow off her car and start it, so it would be heated when she is ready to leave.

So many of these things most women are accustomed to doing because it is innate for us to nurture and love. Men can do this too. Some men can do it very well with little or no instruction. Others need to be taught. This is for men, which need a little instruction in the pleasure-giving department. First, you have to get into the headspace of where you please your woman on a mental level. Women love conversation.

They love to talk about themselves. Stop and listen for a change. The desire to be celebrated and to celebrate another individual in a deeply satisfying relationship that fosters personal growth and a sense of communion is fundamental to all that is divinely feminine. Ask her questions that lead her to talk more about herself. Find out how she's really doing. Now you can find out if there's anything you can do to make her life easier.

If you have a relationship that is not openly kinky, one that you have hidden your desires from your partner, this is the perfect opportunity for you to serve her without her knowledge. You don't have to scream it from the rooftops, "Hey, I'm submissive." Thereby jeopardizing what is otherwise a wonderful relationship.

Instead, in this way, it will be an unspoken servitude fulfilling your desires to serve, and certainly making your partner extremely happy in the end. If you are in an openly kinky relationship, which normally breeds a much deeper intimacy, this will only bring you closer. Bottom line is, you want to try and deepen the intimacy of your relationship.

Communication is key ; you've heard it a million times before. You've probably even heard it from your partner before. If you have indeed heard it from her lips, you really need to stop now and remedy the situation; otherwise, you will only drift apart in the end. If you value your partner and the relationship you share, do it now. Take the time out of your busy workweek and schedule this time for communication.

Don't be mentally and emotionally unavailable ; it will destroy your relationship. The more you reach out to her on this mental level, the more she will want to be with you on all other levels; emotionally, spiritually and physically. Women need the mental discourse to feel love. Believe it or not, by reaching out to her on a mental level, you are actually perpetuating more intimacy on other levels. She talks, you listen, she feels closer to you than ever before, she reaches out and wants physicality or to express deeper emotionality. This works not only when she talks, but when you both share a rapport as well. The more you communicate constructively, the deeper the intimacy becomes.

People communicate on many levels. I'm talking about constructive and satisfying communication, not yelling at one another. You want to manifest a deeper trust in your lives, which is only achieved by healthy discourse. Healthy and normal are very subjective. It means different things to different people. Feeling contentment, satisfaction and happiness is a pretty safe bet you are on the right track.

So you're enjoying long hours of intellectual intercourse, encouraging your significant other to reveal to you the things that make her spirit sing. Make mental note of everything she says. Have these conversations often to re-affirm her pleasure invoking senses and practices.

The best part about this mental stimulation is the care you are showing by your sincere interest in HER. This alone, will propel your relationship to new levels.

Women want to be heard. Look into her eyes, stroke her hand, her chin; a loving gesture during your conversation will make her feel at ease and only lend to bring you much closer.

Most important of all, LISTEN.

Don't stare into her eyes and drift off in a daze and daydream. We can tell when your eyes glaze over. Don't look away, it will show disinterest. Focus all your energy on her. You have to find out what she likes. This is really easier than you think.

If the two of you are a new item, long hours of conversation in the getting-to-know-you infatuation stages can bring you great knowledge about the things she loves. Talk to her; find out what makes her soul resonate. If you've been together for years, by now you should already have all the information you need to please.

Does she love flowers ? Go out of your way every week to bring her favorite flowers home with you. What are her favorite flowers? Can't afford fresh flowers weekly? Then do it bi-weekly, or monthly at least. Surely $20.00 a month isn't going to break you. If you take a good hard look at the money you spend frivolously, you can afford to stop calling your bookie and betting on football Sunday mornings, or forego the extra case of beer.

You have to make the commitment in your own mind first to please your partner. If you don't do this, it won't even come close to being a sincere gesture. Get a part time job, if this is what it takes. Show her by your actions you mean business! What are all the mundane things she does everyday to keep your lives orderly ?

Start watching and then one by one, begin doing them yourself. You pick up the dry cleaning; start doing the laundry and not waiting for her to do it. If you don't know how, learn. Pick up the kids after school; pick up after yourself. Keep your environment clean, if you can't do it, hire a professional to come in and do it. Feed the pets. Make breakfast while she reads the paper in the morning.

There are so many routine tasks done out of habit every day to keep a household running. Set out to make her life easier by doing these everyday chores. You will have a very pleased and contented Queen in your presence. The most essential thing I believe is, for you to become a self-starter. Learn what her needs are and how she likes things done. Every woman runs her household a certain way. Learn these practices and mimic them.

Anticipate her needs by being one step ahead in fulfilling them. Always keep a keen eye around you, paying attention to your environment and the minute details of how it is run. Is the dish detergent almost out? Pick some up on the way home tonight. Will she have enough cream for coffee tomorrow morning?

Anticipate longer-range goals as well. Have you planned what you will do for her next birthday? What about your next Anniversary? Always have little surprises up your sleeve. These needn't even cost anything. Some of the greatest gestures of love and devotion, like the ones we've been discussing, often do not cost a thing.

Leave love notes for her to find in the middle of her busy, stressful day. Put something special for her to find in her lunch bag. Call her up and invite her to a picnic in the park for lunch. If you're going out of town, leave adoring messages for her on her voice mail. Send her an online greeting card to show her how much you miss her. You should be investing a minimum of one to two hours per day in pleasing your Queen; in whatever capacity this takes form.

You should always be thinking ahead and devising plans to bring her greater pleasure. Does she love gardening ? Take a trip to your local gardening store together and spend the day puttering around the garden, digging holes, fetching plants and making a connection with the earth. You can spend long hours sitting outside on the patio and watching the life you've both so painstakingly nurtured grow and take pride in the beauty of all that is around you.

Is she fond of antiquing? Make a day trip of going from antique market to antique market, researching beforehand where they are located. Is she cultured? Does she love the arts ? Find out what she loves and buy the tickets to attend. Does she just like to stay home and recluse ? If she loves to nest, make this evening as special as you can.

Set out to make her a lovely dinner of her favorite dishes. If you can't cook, order in her favorites and set up a candlelit dinner with wine. Take a cooking course. Maybe she loves champagne. Have that chilled and waiting for her when she gets home. Serve her every need. Make sure her glass is always filled. Create a romantic ambience with lighting, candles, incense, essential oils, and music.

After dinner, allow her to relax while you clean up.

Put her legs up on the sofa, make sure she has all that she needs and go about your chores. She may love to have her feet massaged. You can spend hours upon hours massaging her feet and legs or her entire body.

Take a massage therapy course or a reflexology course, which specializes in specific points on the feet and hands. Reflexology is based on the premise that there are zones and reflex areas in the feet and hands which correspond to all body parts. Reflexology reduces stress by generating deep tranquil relaxation. Sensitive, trained hands can detect tiny deposits and imbalances in the feet, and by working on these points, can release blockages and restore the free flow of energy to the whole body. Tensions are eased, and circulation is improved. Her feet will love you for it.

A stress-free Queen is a happy one. Since you're down there, give her a pedicure. Learning the steps of how to give good pedicures and manicures can be picked up rather quickly; get a book if you're completely new to it. Make sure you have a steady hand, and soft lips to kiss each toe once the job is completed.

Get some essential oils that promote relaxation, such as chamomile, lavender or geranium and mix them with a carrier oil. I prefer cold pressed oils such as sweet almond oil or grapeseed oil. But olive oil or safflower oil will do in a pinch. Visit your local aromatherapy store or health food store and pick up these products.

Some of them even have blends, which are already mixed for specific uses such as 'evening relaxing massage', or 'morning wake-up blends'. Be spontaneous and surprise her. Get up early in the morning and draw her a bath.

Wake her gently with coffee and the glorious scents floating in the air from her bath. Use essential oils and rose petals in her bathwater and light candles all around the tub. Kneel at the side of the tub while she luxuriates in the splendor of it all. Soothingly loofah her skin. This will exfoliate her skin to prepare it for shaving. Buy the nicest gels and foams for shaving her skin.

Shave her legs, underarms and whatever part of her body she likes to keep free from hair. She may love to have a clean-shaven temple, or maybe just the underside and likes a little patch of hair on the mounds. Wash her hair and give it conditioning treatments.

Always make sure she has all her favorite beauty products on hand. Give her a facial while she lounges in the tub. Place a warm washcloth on her face to open up the pores, and then use an exfoliating cream or cleanser to clean her face.

Have warm towels just out of the dryer waiting for her when she steps out of the bath. Dry her and have some body creams to gently massage into her skin to keep her skin soft and nourished. Treat your partner like the Queen that she is. Honor her and worship her.

You don't know just how lucky you are. Many only dream of being in relationships, sitting at home alone, night after night. You have the opportunity to please most men would die for. Make the most of it, because if you don't, there's always someone around the corner waiting to take over and do it much better! All women like to be pleased physically by different methods.

This is highly intimate and a very personal process.

Respect her wishes when it comes to how she requires personal physical pleasure. Ask her a lot of questions. If you've developed the closeness we talked about earlier, she'll be more than happy to share with you how she enjoys being satisfied.

Learn about Female anatomy. I'm sure I don't need to remind you, Women are the only species that have a totally dedicated pleasure center that is used for nothing else but pure physical bliss. Learn how to honor her entire temple the way she likes to be pleased most. Don't just dive right in either. Take your time and appreciate all that is Feminine.

After your Queen is relaxed and lying down, begin by kissing her toes, licking them one by one and working your way up her legs. Use your hands to caress all of her body slowly and gently. Look into her eyes often. I've never trusted a lover who couldn't look me directly in the eye during moments of deepest intimacy. Kiss her and tell her how beautiful she is time and again; she'll never tire of hearing it.

Cradle her breasts and hold your face on them, kiss them, lick them, nibble them and if she likes, tug tenderly on her nipples. She should be feeling rather amorous and might even be pushing your head between her legs. Begin slowly by kissing the outside of her temple; never rush and bury your face. This should be a coveted ceremony. You are being blessed with the most treasured temple of your Queen. Listen to her breathing and her sounds.

This should be indication enough to let you know whether you are doing the right thing or not.

It's up to you to identify exactly the precise steps you must take to bring your Queen to ecstasy.

All or none of the above techniques may do it for her. She may have other ideas that bring her fits of heated passion. Learn what they are and do them. Always do them well, taking the utmost in care and love to please her. Be very accommodating to your Queen. When you speak to her, don't cop an attitude. This will drive her away !

The constant push and pull of passive/aggressiveness on your part, if you are prone to this dysfunctional behavior, will create such a rift she will be very untrusting of your motives. Soften up your demeanor; be positive and very agreeable when she asks you to do something. After all, you are submissive, even if she doesn't know you are outwardly.

You may already be in the ideal D/s relationship of your dreams, but if you're not, treating her like your Queen will give you the individual self-training every man should be endeavoring in to please his Goddess. If she were your Domme in every sense of the word, you would have to do everything mentioned above and MORE.

So, why not invest in your education? One day your situation may change. Your partner may find she enjoys your relationship and recognizes the underlying D/s connotations and investigate it further. You may even be daring enough to introduce her to literature describing loving alternative relationships. Anything is possible.

Then again, you may not be able to survive in a relationship, which doesn't realize your deep-seated desires. If that is the case and you drift apart, you may one day find yourself in a relationship with a Domme. Then you'd better be ready to serve! All has not been for naught.

All the time and energy you invested in treating all women up until now as the Goddess's they are, has prepared you for this moment. To truly serve with great pride and knowledge how to be the best possible submissive you can be. Dominant women want to surround themselves with caring, thoughtful and often well-trained submissives.

You will probably catch the eye of a Domme and not be passed up over another less-trained submissive. If you are fortunate enough to find yourself in an ideal relationship, enjoy it thoroughly, for you are one of the lucky ones endowed with the privilege of honoring all which is Divinely Feminine."

How to make a Woman happy

It's really not difficult...

TO MAKE A WOMAN HAPPY, A MAN ONLY NEEDS TO BE :

1. a friend
2. a companion
3. a lover
4. a brother
5. a father
6. a master
7. a chef
8. an electrician
9. a carpenter
10. a plumber
11. a mechanic
12. a decorator
13. a stylist
17. a psychologist
18. a pest exterminator
19. a psychiatrist
20. a healer
20. a good listener
22. an organizer
23. a good father
24. very clean
25. sympathetic
26. athletic
26. warm

- 27. attentive
- 28. gallant
- 29. intelligent

- 51. give her lots of time, especially time for herself
- 52. give her lots of space, never worrying about where she goes

IT IS VERY IMPORTANT:

53. Never to forget:

- * birthdays

- * anniversaries

- * arrangements she makes

Words women useFine :

This is the word women use to end an argument when they are right and you need to shut up.

Five Minutes :

If she is getting dressed, this is half an hour.

Five minutes is only five minutes if you have just been given 5 more minutes to watch the game before helping around the house.

Nothing :

This is the calm before the storm. This means "something" and you should be on your toes. Arguments that begin with "nothing" usually end in "fine".

Go Ahead :

This is a dare, not permission, DON'T DO IT!

A Loud Sigh :

Although not actually a word, the loud sigh is often misunderstood by men. A "Loud Sigh" means she thinks you are an idiot and wonders why she is wasting her time standing here and arguing with you over "Nothing".

That's Okay :

This is one of the most dangerous statements that a woman can make to a man. "That's Okay" means that she wants to think long and hard before deciding how and when you will pay for your mistake.

Thanks :

This is the least used of all words in the female vocabulary. If a woman is thanking you. Do not question it, just say you're welcome and back out of the room slowly .

Goddess Worship for men

If you want your woman to be a Goddess, worship her.

You want sex, women want intimacy. If you desire a women sexually, but she is cold, it means you are lacking something in your approach. To get a hot women in your hands (even if she your wife) you need to learn to be intimate to her. Intimacy does not mean sex alone. You can be intimate without a touch. You can make a women desire you without looking at her. All you need is to connect to her. Connect mentally- think of her, connect in your heart- fall in love with her, connect emotionally- understand what she feels, before you connect physically. She really needs to feel your presence on all that levels in order to become open to you completely and to let you in her the most sacred places. You can still have sex without this connection, but it will be a cold physical interaction, sort of like with a hooker for the money and will not be satisfying, but will left you feel empty, or just bad.

So, have sex only with woman you want to — or able to — connect. You can connect even with a hooker, or with someone you have just met and never will see again, and have the most intimate sex, the experience you will remember for your life time, because it was fulfilling to a state of bliss, because you had real union- even if only for an hour. The length of time doesn't matter, you have a union with your wife for a limited time as well- because you both sooner or later going to die. And you can sleep with your wife every day- automatically, since she is a woman in your bed, and this can be boring and dreadful. Why not make it beautiful, since she is your wife, your woman? Be close to her, talk to her, be brave, open to each other without a fear to be hurt again, forgive in advance, break the emotional ice of old hearts if it has been growing between you for years and you will have the most beautiful beautiful women in your arms once again and for live- because she is already your wife.

Tolstoy wrote in Anna Karenina : "If a man truly loves his wife, he will know her more completely, and by knowing her he will know all women." Tolstoy knew the Goddess.

Goddess Worship for Her :

Worship Her on every way : in deep spiritual love, in the caring marriage, taking good care of her.

In bed, sensually with great pleasure and respect. When you make love to her, hold her sacred, and make her feel she is yours. Be sensitive to her. Worship is then you approach all of Her in a deep reverence. You can make your love sacred anytime, just begin to be this way towards her and she will feel the tenderness and respond. Being sacred towards each other feels like heaven for both, because you treat each other like You are the Gods, who in fact, live in heaven.

Although you are human too, because you have fears, insecurities and vices, and you are imperfect (and so is she) — do not make it an excuse, instead, help each other emphasize and cultivate higher self. Be graceful. It's not easy to be a God, takes a lots of work to deal with your human nature, but the work is rewarding. As a result first thing you'll get is a beautiful relationship and a supreme lover. Other things will follow: becoming brilliant in anything you do. If you want to be successful in creating a powerful kingdom, dedicate your work to a Goddess.

Your woman is a physical representative of the Goddess — it helps if she is aware of it — so to worship the Goddess herself, do something good for your woman. The ritual can include beautiful gifts, adoration, flowers, oyster lunch with champagne, caring touch, a sincere kiss or a good sex. Any woman will like you for this- not because of the presents, but because you do it for the Goddess in her.

Religious Praises of Mistress Peggy Sue

GODDESS PEGGY SUE,
GODDESS of the Female Domination Empire ;
the Woman is Divine ;
the Female is Celestial ;
She is Superior ;
the Woman is above the world ;
the universe, the planets, the stars, the constellations are beneath Her Feet ;

She is Great ;
She is the Higher form ;
there is no jewel, no wealth, no richness on earth rarer than a Woman, nothing superior to a Woman ; there is not, nor has been, nor will be anything equal to the Woman ;
there is no prayer enough to the Woman ;
i'm a male, I bend over my both knees and my face to the ground before Her ;
I bow down and prostrate myself before You !

To my Strict Beautiful Cruel and Kind Goddess and Mistress

Bowing before Your Royalty Mistress , this one I crying from inside from the deny.

the more You own the more this one loves You and adore You and melt in Your Foot Dust, hoping that You take more and more pleasure form this one as long as You wishes whenever You wishes whatever You wishes, the more You dominate the more this one You rule to Your slaves

the more the deny , the more the begging

the more the kindness the more the love

the more the cruelty the more the happiness

and always the bond come stronger every minute every second , every breath this one take , this one will say Your Sacred Name.

You are the Goddess, You grant with no give back, since You are the Goddess, hoping never to be on Your slaves damned list, and always crawling to do anything that let You be pleased from this one.

happiness , he can do anything except waiting just like a dog at Your Boots begging Mercy , and from time to time visiting Your profile more and more to not let You go away from his mind, he always misses You , You always in his heart , his mind, his soul.

You are the hope that make this one lives.

Without You , my Goddess everything is gone to the wind.

Wishes that my words reaches Your Vast Empire , reaching at Your Boots letting You know that his life is under Your Sacred Feet , where he belongs.

Kissing again Your Footsteps, Boots and finally Your Gloves, this one dismisses and vanishes in the wind silently...

You are the wealth,
You are the essence of being,
You are unlimited,
You are blessed,
You are the universe,
You are the harmony and the balance,
I implore You, may Your endless Dominion come.

leopold masoch

Hello again Precious Goddess Peggy Sue ... as has become my now daily routine, I still have your 'enlarged' photos in a very 'private' place and still view them every morning and every evening as a sign of my devotion to you, our Precious Goddess Peggy Sue, and to your wonderful and courageous lifestyle! Needless to say, your very dominant beauty is so apparent as you pose in your leathers and they always cause quite a 'stir' in me, in all the 'right' places. As a complete and devoted submissive/slave to my one and only (to this point) Mistress, I know the feeling of 'submissiveness' we men of inferior stature receive whenever we kneel in submission to a very superior woman such as you, Goddess Peggy Sue. Of course, I'm always left with the 'wish' that I lived in your area so somehow, somewhere, sometime, I might be granted the unique privilege of kneeling in front of you, kissing your boots, as an illustration of my devotion to your superiority. I'm so darn sorry I could not make your 'chat' on Sunday morning once again. But just about every Sunday morning is devoted to my Mistress and will for the most part find me in her office, cleaning up, straightening up her files, and doing whatever chores she has assigned me. If I'm very lucky (and it just doesn't happen enough), sometimes I will get the opportunity to serve her in person if she decides to, or has appointments on Sunday. So for now, I guess my devotion to you Goddess Peggy Sue, will have to be confined to cyberspace. Goddess Peggy Sue, I was wondering if you would find it feasible to post some 'rules and requirements' for your cyber slaves to follow in showing their devotion to you (thru your photos) and of course, your Queens? I'm not sure just how 'frank' I can be here in this blog, but I would be happy to send you (privately) some of the 'rules and requirements' I have to follow when, for one reason or another, I cannot be in my Mistress's presence. As I've told you, Goddess Peggy Sue, my Mistress is also a member of 'OWK' and has all the printed material from that organization, i.e., 'how to mentally train slaves the world over' which is very instructive. And, I can assure you, these training methods work for those of us that are 'honest and true' slaves to the female gender! For now, and as always, my deepest respect to you, Goddess Peggy Sue, and your Queens, Rebecca and Kathleen. Humbly, Tom.

VI - GUIDES

How to Find Your Own Dominatrix

« Female Dominance — erotic activity — a switch from the usually less assertive female role in heterosexual relationships. » Gini Graham Scott, Ph.D.

« Love is bondage; the lover is a slave. When one loves deeply, passionately, totally, submission to that love is not only degradation but also an ecstasy. » Lyn Cowan (Masochism: A Jungian View)

It is the battle cry of the sexual underground. It is a moan, a lament, a plea. It is admitted with embarrassment and guilt by men as macho and as brawny as Arnold Schwarzenegger, men as lean and mean and make—my-day as Eastwood. And in my four years of leading S&M support groups nationwide, I've heard it again and again—that wail, that sob, that simple sentence, a refrain as persistent as spring rain: "I want a dominant woman!"

It is the hidden fantasy, unmentionable in polite society. It is the secret side of judges, doctors, cowboys, cabbies and construction workers: the craving, the longing, the obsession, the daydream, the wet dream—the desire to be sexually dominated, to be handcuffed, spanked and loved.

« Perhaps 100,000 to 150,000 males each year visit a professional dominant or mistress for erotic satisfaction. » So states Dr. Gini Graham Scott in her book, Erotic Power : An Exploration of Dominance and Submission (Secaucus, NJ: Citadel Press, 1983).

And, indeed, the sex tabloids run rampant with the proclamations of these pay-for-play dominatrices. Consider, for example, this sampling from the pages of Spectator :

Veruska

Tall Blond Goddess

Trains Submissives

Explore SM, BD to Your Limits

Lady Thorn

Mistress Madeline

Cassandra 12 Years Experience in Latex Leather Lace
B/D—Fetish—Fantasy—SM

Well-equipped clinic room ; exam table and medical uniforms.

Yes, the professional dominatrices are ready and available, and many a man has thanked Goddess for their services. But what of the gent who yearns for a bit more than what the pros provide?

What of the male who covets a "real" dominant/submissive (D/S) relationship — a girlfriend, a lover, a playmate, a soul mate, a wife, some caring female to exert stem control over his erotic life and the bulge in his trousers ? Where does this man turn if not to dear Veruska or Lady Thorn ?

After all, one just can't kneel before every long-legged woman wearing leather boots in the lunch line at McDonald's, hoping in this manner to nab the nearest dominatrix, to have and to hold.

To make matters more confusing, the D/S community and the world at large suffer from a dearth of females. In my support groups, for example, the ratio of new inquiries—submissive gents to dominant women—runs over 100 to one. Chances are slim, therefore, that (leather boots or no) any given girl, at any given time, at any given place, will turn out to be someone whose fantasies involve mummifying a guy in duct tape or ordering him to obtain a dog collar.

« While some men are successful in finding (dominant) women... » Dr. Gini Graham Scott, Ph.D., writes, « many others have difficulty. Some of the men having difficulties are older, less attractive, or less adept socially and would have trouble attracting a woman in any social context. But often men who are quite personable experience similar difficulties, simply because there are so many more men who want to be submissive than women who are dominant—at many...meetings (of D/S groups) men outnumber women two or three to one. »

Clearly, the submissive men intent on meeting a dominant woman needs a strategy, a plan. Here, then, are Mistress Miller's Tips and Taboos for Finding a Dominatrix.

Dominant/Submissive Support Groups

Despite Dr. Scott's portent about the abundance of men at such meetings, still the best place to find dominant women is at any one of the many educational support groups for people interested in D/S erotica.

Don't fall discouraged, however, if Ms. Right doesn't hook a leash to your belt loop as soon as you march through the door of such a group. In fact, your own particular brand of Ms. Right might not be present at that first gathering...or the second...or the third. After all, no one thinks it odd when a single gent in search of a girlfriend visits Parents Without Partners or the Unitarian Social for months on end till he finally apprehends that special sweetheart. Why, then, should things be any different for the submissive soul seeking his mate?

Therefore, embrace a philosophical outlook whenever attending these meetings. Because if you join with a "gotta-find-a-girl" attitude, you are courting disappointment. Instead, look forward to networking with many good people—male and female, dominant and submissive, gay and straight. Look forward to learning something about this form of erotica that captivates your mind, heart, and genitals—for after all, first and foremost, these groups offer education and support as well as camaraderie and kink. Perhaps you might even contribute to the club in some way, by volunteering for newsletter work, for instance, or through something as simple as sharing your thoughts and feelings at a rap session. If you attend with the spirit of adventure, exploration, and giving, you are bound to benefit from the group. And, incidentally, you will meet some dominant females in the process—sincere women who are there for the same reason you are, because they are driven by a desire to develop and cultivate their own unique form of eros. You will meet women in leather, women with little black whips dangling from their waists, women in six-inch heels. You will meet indistinguishable from schoolmarms with their plaid skirts and loafers. And one of these women may be the gal for you !

Personal Ads

A female placing a personal ad for a D/S relationship is apt to receive well over 100 letters from potential boyfriends. Circa 1985, I myself netted 170 responses with my first classified insert in the Albuquerque Journal; it read: "Attractive, domineering, sincere F seeks submissive, obedient, smart, sane, reliable M..." Yet a man running a similar blurb for a dominant companion might gather only one or two responses—if he's the lucky sort, the type that wins in Vegas, for instance. Sad truth: Most men who publish ads receive no replies, or replies from women who misread or misinterpreted their message. Guys who answer ads fare only somewhat better than those who post their own. Nevertheless, do not discount the classifieds. My friend Mistress Ginger in Oklahoma runs national announcements for submissive men on a regular basis, and Mistress Kay of Nashville both prints and answers ads. Over the years, I, too, have played the personals, meeting many good men that way. So, from time to time, women do advertise and respond to ads.

But there is another reason for going the ad route.

By constructing your own blurb, you can pinpoint exactly what you seek from a woman. Is intelligence important? Looks? Attire? And what can you offer her?—Devotion? Love? Marriage? Total submission or just once-upon-a-bedroom? You also can determine the type of relationship you desire—monogamous or open, for instance. In short, a personal ad can clarify things for you; it can offer you direction.

In addition, if you respond to ads, you will grow accustomed to communicating with dominant women, at least via letter writing. True, these gals may not write back, but at least you have contemplated what to say to them, and what not to say, and after a while you will learn to portray an accurate account of your assets, goals, and longings—a portrait appealing to any female!

Convincing Your Wife or Girlfriend to Dominate You

Pitiful — the number of men who hide their submissive side from a wife or lover. The fear — that the loved one will bail out once the issue of a D/S relationship is broached. And surely many a man has watched his woman tremble away in fright and confusion once he hauls the handcuffs out.

To tell or not to tell, that is the question. Easy for me to say: I advise you to opt for honesty. But there are various ways to explain yourself—bad ways and good ways.

For instance, never make a big deal of your proclivities; keep it light, playful. Don't take her by her hand after dinner one night, stare at her pupils till they dilate, and state in a deliberate, somber voice, "Honey, sit down. I got something I gotta tell ya..."

Start slow. No need to reveal your most bizarre bondage fixation immediately. Try, for once, to forget that throbbing in your groin, and approach the matter from her point of view: How might she benefit from your predilection, for example (as opposed to how she can fulfill your needs).

A gift is a good place to begin. Do you—like most submissive men—love the female foot, cherish the notion of licking a lady's boot? Then buy your woman some kinky shoes. From spikes to thigh-highs, the choice is yours. But remember: Purchase something she will enjoy, too! And when she wears your gift for that first time, tell her she looks so luscious you just want to kiss the earth she trods upon. Then fall to your hands and knees, and—smiling all the while—lay some smackers on the toe leather, embrace her lower calves, and declare your undying devotion. Then stand up, grin, dust yourself off, and drop it for a week or two, until you once again—with humor and caring—allude to your desires.

One transvestite I know harbored this predilection for years, but finally grew weary of deception. "Honey," he finally asked his wife, "how would you like a maid?" "I'd love one!" replied the spouse.

"I've got just the girl for you," the husband assured.

He went into the bedroom and emerged 30 minutes later as "Joan," his female persona. After an instant of stunned silence, the wife pointed to the vacuum and commanded, "Get busy."

« Due to the eroticizing of female power, » Dr. Scott explains, « many men in a D&S relationship become quite eager to 'serve' the woman. »

Now Joan and his bride dine out regularly or mosey through the mall together. Sometimes an adult daughter joins them in their escapades. And, incidentally, the house is always spotless.

Some men achieve success in converting a partner to dominance by initially dominating the woman. Dr. Scott describes one such couple :

« At first, her relationship with Marvin, a 40-year-old internist, was quite conventional... Gradually, Marvin began sharing his fantasies with her, but he put no pressure on her to play them out, so she wouldn't feel threatened. Also, he told her his dominant male fantasies first, so she would experience less conflict with her usual female role. His strategy, which he used successfully with other women, was one of gradual revelation to gain acceptance.

Melody soon became curious, and Marvin encouraged her to play out some of her lighter fantasy ideas, such as his fantasy of tying her up. Marvin then started sharing his ideas about being submissive, and Melody agreed to try these out, too. She had already broken the first barrier by getting involved in D&S, so it was easier to proceed to the next step: switching roles.

Once she did, she found she liked it... Within a few weeks, she was eagerly trying out new techniques with Marvin... »

To tell or not to tell...? Perhaps after all you have no choice. For what then is the alternative ? — secrecy, deception and fear. And, yes, your woman may leave you when she learns you long to be spanked or shackled. (Dr. Scott warns that, according to her inquiries, « most... efforts to share [D&S] with girlfriends and wives were unsuccessful. ») Nevertheless, these yearnings are a part of you—the fantasies, the fixations, the fetishes. And they will gnaw away at your relationship just as surely if you hide them as if you try to share them with your sweetheart.

In his article, "Masochist's Lib," (The Village Voice, May 13, 1971), Terry Kolb states : « Let us really open up—both in pleasure and in growth. Repressing deviant behavior will solve nothing. Let us understand it and try to accept the positive values that are to be found in it... In a word—let us be free. »

Know that in choosing to pursue a dominant/submissive relationship, one takes a courageous first step towards that freedom. Know, too, that the submissive man typically is not a wimp, a fool, or a follower of Charles Manson.

« Who are we, » asks Terry Kolb, « we 'poor people' of the sex ads and all the rest of it? The people have met through the ads and in the Eulenspiegel Society [oldest D/S support group in the US] were usually well-educated and almost always highly intelligent. Many of us work in conservative business firms and you would never guess our secret if you were to meet us on the job. More frequently, we are into socially oriented fields — we are teachers, social workers, therapists, etc. The highest number of us are creative, however — writers, composers, musicians, and painters... I have developed a marvelous self-image by discovering who my 'fellow degenerates' are. »

Dr. Scott emphasizes, « this is not a group of drop-outs and losers; they are mainstream Americans.. I did not find them to be psychologically troubled or inept. »

And, getting back to that notion of freedom, she writes :

« Many D&Sers find through the sexual interchange a profound closeness, intimacy, and a sense of communication and trust with one partner.. coupled with a greater awareness of self, and an experience of self-expansion... For some D&Sers, the intensity yields... ' spiritual experience in which they come in touch with their own deep feelings and those of their partner, D&S offers them not only immediate sexual satisfaction but a lingering spiritual or psychic fulfillment. They speak of a blissful surrender... »

Gentlemen, I ask you : what could be freer than that

How to get your Wife/Girlfriend into the Femdom/sissy lifestyle

One of the questions I am asked most often is how do I get my woman to make me a sissy or a slave. The first question is what do you want or need? Here more than anywhere else, be careful what you wish for, you just might get it. One of the things you have to consider is that once you cross this line, she will NEVER look at you as a man again. Is your relationship strong enough to survive that change? Your relationship will change forever once you bring this up. Some questions you have to consider are the following :

1. Is your woman naturally submissive ? If so, all is not lost. However, it will take much more work on your part to get her comfortable with this type of relationship.

2. Do you want to play or really change the basic nature of your relationship? Every sissy relationship should start out as play. It will only work if BOTH are comfortable with it. By just playing, you can see if she will really be ok with it. IF NOT, YOU WOULD SERVE HER BEST BY SUPRESSING YOUR DESIRE FOR SISSYHOOD.

3. Are you willing to pay the price to be a sissy? If you want to become a sissy, you will have to serve your woman. This means doing housework, laundry, cooking, cleaning etc. you may not have to do all the work, but you will have to do much more than most men are willing to do. IF YOU ARE NOT WILLING TO DO THIS, FORGET IT.

4. REMEMBER, A SISSY SATISFIES HER MISTRESS FIRST. A sissy is only satisfied if and when her Mistress wants.

Now for the how to part.

1. Start by telling her how much you love her, respect her, and how you have a need to completely surrender yourself to her. Cook a nice dinner for her (If your are going to be a sissy, you are going to have to learn to cook. If you can't buy a cook book.), get a nice bottle of wine, and afterwards, sit her down and tell her how sexy she is. Then tell her that you want to do everything you can to make her happy and satisfied. Tell her every time you are with her, you just want to surrender to her and melt into her arms.

a) Explain that you want to serve her better but must have her help to learn how to. b) Serving her better is going to make you and your life happier and more fulfilling.

c) Tell her that receiving her correction and suggestions will help you serve her better.

d) Let her know that you want your lives together to fit her idea of the perfect relationship.

This is particularly important if your woman is not naturally dominant. She may feel that you want her to become something she is not comfortable with.

2. Be specific about how you want to serve her. Tell her exactly what you want to do for her. Let her know that out of your love for her and your need to serve her, you will do this and that for her. Be sure that you fulfill these promises !

3. Ask her specifically what you can do to make her happier and her life easier. Ask her what she would change about you. This is critical. Whatever she says, agree if you are willing to do it. Be honest! Agreeing to change and not changing will eliminate any chance of her being willing to become your Mistress. Let her change you to be what she wants so that you can change the relationship to what you want. Again, the most important part of being a true sissy or slave is submitting your will to hers.

4. Start every love making session by giving her a back and foot rub. Kiss her feet both top and bottom. Do it on your knees while she sits above you. It is best if you are naked and she stays fully dressed. Suggest that she leave her nightgown on. If she does not have a satin high quality gown, buy one for her. Let her know how much it excites you to have her gown rub against your naked body.

This is the first step to getting where you want your relationship to be. The next two steps will follow.

VII - RULES

Code of Chevalry
Modern, based on the Old Code

by Mistress Peggy Sue's slave husband : Christopher Dean

Prowess : To seek excellenee in all endeavors expected of a knight, martial and otherwise, seeking strength to be used in the service of justiee, rather than in personal aggrandizement.

Justice : Seek always the path of 'right', unencumbered by bias or personal interest. Recognize that the sword of justice can be a terrible thing, so it must be tempered by humanity and mercy. If the 'right' you see rings agrees with others, and you seek it out without bending to the temptation for expediency, then you will earn renown beyond measure.

Loyalty : Be known for unwavering commitment to the people and ideals you choose to live by. There are many places where compromise is expected; loyalty is not amongst them.

Defense: The ideal knight was sworn by oath to defend his Mistress and those who depended upon him. Seek always to defend your nation, your family, and those to whom you believe worthy of loyalty.

Courage : Being a knight often means choosing the more difficult path, the personally expensive one. Be prepared to make personal sacrifices in service of the precepts and people you value. At the same time, a knight should seek wisdom to see that stupidity and courage are cousins. Courage also means taking the side of truth in all matters, rather than seeking the expedient lie. Seek the truth whenever possible, but remember to temper justice with mercy, or the pure truth can bring grief.

Faith : A knight must have faith in his beliefs, for faith roots him and gives hope against the despair that human failings create.

Humility : Value first the contributions of others ; do not boast of your own accomplishments, let others do this for you. Tell the deeds of others before your own, according them the renown rightfully earned through virtuous deeds. In this way the office of knighthood is well done and glorified, helping not only the gentle spoken of but also all who call themselves knights.

Largesse : Be generous in so far as your resources allow; largesse used in this way counters gluttony. It also makes the path of mercy easier to discern when a difficult decision of justice is required.

Nobility : Seek great stature of character by holding to the virtues and duties of a knight, realizing that though the ideals cannot be reached, the quality of striving towards them ennobles the spirit, growing the character from dust towards the heavens. Nobility also has the tendency to influence others, offering a compelling example of what can be done in the service of rightness.

Franchise : Seek to emulate everything I have spoken of as sincerely as possible, not for the reason of personal gain but because it is right. Do not restrict your exploration to a small world, but seek to infuse every aspect of your life with these qualities. Should you succeed in even a tiny measure then you will be well remembered for your quality and virtue.

Code for dominant Women

I believe that these should apply to Dominants.

1) HONESTY & JUSTICE :

Be acutely honest throughout your dealings with all people. Believe in justice not from other people , but from yourself. To the true Dominant woman there are no shades of gray in the question of honesty and justice. There is only RIGHT and WRONG.

2) POLITE COURTESY :

The Dominant woman has no reason to be cruel. She does not have to prove their strength. A Dominant woman is courteous, without this outward show of respect we are nothing. A Dominant woman is not only respected for her strength, but also her dealings with others. The true strength of the Dominant woman becomes apparent during difficult times.

3) COURAGE :

Rise above others who are afraid to act. A Dominant woman must have courage, living life completely, fully and wonderfully. Courage that is not blind, but intelligent and strong.

4) HONOR :

A true Dominant woman has only one judge of honor, and that is to themselves. The decisions you make and how decisions are carried out are a reflection of whom you truly are. You cannot hide from yourself.

5) COMPASSION :

A Dominant woman is quick and strong, and is not like other people. She develops a power that must be used for the good of all. With compassion, you help others at every opportunity. If a opportunity does not arise, you find one.

6) SINCERITY :

When a Dominant woman has said something that she will do, it is as good as being done. Nothing will stop her from completing what she say she will do. She do not have to "give ther word," she does not have to "promise." Speaking and doing are the same action.

7) RESPONSIBILITY :

Having done something or say something, she owns that thing she is responsible for, and all the consequences that follow. A Dominant woman is immensely loyal to those in her care, to those she is responsible for, she remains true.

Duties of a Domme

These are the duties that a true domme should do :

- 1) Teach her slaves proper decorum when interacting with other dommes.
- 2) To give the sub a shoulder to cry on should he need it.
- 3) To give the sub his freedom when he feels he is not being given the training he wants or when he has finished his training.
- 4) A domme should care for the sub or slave and make sure that he is able to perform to the best of his abilities.
- 5) A domme must allow the slave to look in her eyes when he has ideas on how to better himself.
- 6) Role play. This will enable the slave or sub to be able prepare himself for the real world of D/s and of course the domme again has to ask what his fantasies are and work both of them into a scenario. When I do a scenario I make it as real as possible thereby preventing the slave to have fantasies.
- 7) The domme should anticipate errors in training, correct them for the slaves' benefit and if necessary admit wrongdoing.

To help slaves, I recommend them to do the following :

- 1) Create a slave resume detailing their name, slave number, objective, work experience, self-training.
- 2) Take the resumes and go to munches, conventions, place them on dommes website.
- 3) The domme meanwhile also places their e-mail or ID on domme sites with a copy of the subs resume.

of GODDESS Peggy Sue*

Preamble

The purpose of this Constitution is to define the rights, roles, status and responsibilities of Female citizens of The Female Empire. This Constitution also defines the treatment of all males living within the borders of The Female Empire.

I truly believe that a future Matriarchal Society should consist of loving associations between Females and males, whereby they respect each other, but the Females take the lead and are in absolute control according to the natural order.

The Position Of Females

Every Female is created equal and is endowed with inalienable rights by the Creator.

Females are the wellspring of life and as such will be held in the highest esteem.

All Females shall conduct themselves with decorum and propriety so they can be an example to each other and to the males who serve them.

No Female shall accuse another Female of any misdeed unless she has clear and conclusive proof of the charge being laid.

No Female will attempt to lure away any male who is the property of another Female. If She desires a male owned by another Lady, She must be willing to offer the male's owner adequate compensation that is equal to the 'worth' of the male, and is agreeable to the male's Owner.

The Position Of males

The males will have a supporting role, and will serve, obey, adore, and worship the Ladies in their life.

No male may possess any property or money. No male would be allowed to own property but instead that property would be held in trust for him and managed by a competent group of female investors until he retires. Upon retirement he would be paid an annuity for life of which he would then give a portion to his owner for upkeep or if he had no owner then he would be given a stipend to be used for spending money as his retirement costs would be taken out of the investment that has been accrued for him.

A single man would not have power of attorney but would have his investment managed in the same way as in answer one.....this would be to ensure that NO UNSCRUPULOUS DOMME would use his money for her ends.

If he got married YES he would give up all claim to legal ownership but should his wife die then the remaining funds would then go in trust and administered in the same fashion as mentioned above.

Once last thing all annuities issued to retired males and Females are for life. Since stipends are paid solely to the male then they too would be for life.

Owned voluntary slaves will be considered the property to their Female Owner and subject first and foremost to Her rule and commands. All owned males might be traded, bought and sold as chattel subject to the whim and wishes of their Owners.

Un-owned males will be considered the property of the Empire and subject to the demands of the ruling Council and all Ladies of the Empire. Males who are the property of the Empire (i.e. who are not owned by a Lady) will be directed by the Council to tasks that will benefit the Empire. Such males may be traded, bought and sold as chattel subject to the whim and wishes of the ruling Council. The Council may, from time to time, sell its voluntary slave stock at auction to the highest Lady bidder.

Upon the age of 55 all Female dominants will be allowed to retire if They so desire and keep their voluntary slaves.

Females shall have the right, at any time and place, to expect male obedience to any command, provided it does not cause the male to bring harm to any Lady or slave, except as prescribed in the form of administering a lawful punishment as determined by the Council. The only exception to this is when the slave is on an assignment for his Mistress and has a document verifying the above assignment. Then any command by a Domme is null and void until the assignment is finished.

"Thus no male will be subject to violence"

The Ruling Hierarchy

A ruling hierarchy consistent with the intent, goals and mission of the Empire shall govern the Female Empire of GODDESS Peggy Sue as follows;

1. GODDESS Peggy Sue
2. Empress Kathleen
3. Queen Justine
4. Queen Rebecca
5. Prime Female Advisors:

A: Christopher

C: Ken

E: Steve

F: Varsha Gchi

Prime Female Religious Advisor:

A: Xidjan

6. Noble lady: a higher femdom lady who has been promoted to Noble lady
7. Lady (any lady who is dominant and able to punish males. It is presumed that all females who enter Fem Empire have attained at least this position)
8. Males: - Prime Female Advisors will be viewed equal in status to a Noble Lady. This is the highest position possible for a male -

- "Femdom Advisor" or "FemAdvisor" equal to Lady - second highest position for males (free to choose his Lady Boss but without power - a position reserved for intelligent males)

- These positions will be rewarded in this Female Empire, based on the male's participation in the running of the Empire

- Males in Female Empire are usually servants or serfs or voluntarily slaves

The ladder to male citizenship

For the males born into the Empire:

young males

All males begin their servitude as young males, whose only purpose is to serve, honour and obey all Ladies of the Empire. young males are expected to devote every ounce of their being towards the happiness and well being of all Ladies. Education is given to the age of seven or grade two.

serf

When the young males mother or Mistress is satisfied that he has been an obedient, trustworthy and loyal voluntary slave, then She petitions the Council that he be promoted to a serf. Education is then given to the age of thirteen or grade eight.

If he proves himself in servitude to his Mother or Mistress and Her Lady friends, she petitions the Council that he be promoted to resident. Education is then extended to the age of seventeen or grade twelve.

citizen

If a resident proves to be a truly outstanding devotee to the cause for Female Superiority, and is a worthy resident then she petitions the Council that he be promoted to and may be granted the label citizen. Education is further extended to include college then university.

As each level of residency is attained the male may discard the wearing of an item of required Female Attire that he detests most.

For the rogue males privileged to be accepted into the Empire:

There are two types of rogue males – under the age of consent and over the age of consent.

males that are under the age of consent, he would need to have a sponsoring Mistress, already a member of the Empire, and consent granted from his ruling Matriarch. All rogue males would be tested by both written and practical exams and placed into his current educational base appropriate for his level. There may be need to consider a expedited educational process from him to bring him up to current level that he should be at with others his age. Discipline would be in accordance with the appropriate class/age level

As with the males born into the Empire, the males are put into four classes:

Young males

All males begin their servitude as young males, whose only purpose is to serve, honour and obey all Ladies of the Empire. They are expected to devote every ounce of their being towards the happiness and well being of all Ladies.

serf

When the young males Mother or Mistress is satisfied that he has been an obedient, trustworthy and loyal slave, then She petitions the Council that he be promoted to a serf.

resident

If he proves himself in servitude to his Mother or Mistress and Her Lady friends, she petitions the Council that he be promoted to resident.

citizen

If a resident proves to be a truly outstanding devotee to the cause for Female Superiority, and is a worthy resident then she petitions the Council that he be promoted to and may be granted the label citizen.

At each level attained the wearing of required Female Attire is lessened as every male will be allowed to discard that item of female attire he detests.

Military Service

In order to protect and preserve Our way of life, and the Empire of GODDESS Peggy Sue, all males will be required to volunteer for 3 years of compulsory military training and service. Every male will report to the Empire's Military Training Centre at 9 AM sharp on the date of his 18th birthday. Upon completion of the required military service, every male will be automatically placed in the military reserves for life to be called upon at any time should the military require their services in the name of the Empire.

male Health and Welfare

The Empire, in its infinite WISDOM, decrees that all males will be provided with free medical and dental coverage. This will ensure that the supply of males is in a state of good health and well being for the good of the Empire and the Ladies they serve.

Free liposuction and a rigorous exercise regime will be imposed on all overweight men, as the Ladies only desire well-muscled and virile males to be in Their service.

Should a male be unable to perform his duties for his mistress due to incapacitation or old age the state will take ownership of him and place him in a slaves' convalescent home where he will receive the finest of treatment

Education and Training

All Females will be entitled to free education to the equivalent level of a university degree.

All Females will be required to undergo a recognized minimum of training in how to manage, control and use males. Females wishing extra training, in this field, will be granted such at any stage of their life.

All males will, from birth until the day before their seventh birthday, be required to live with their natural mothers. On the day of their seventh birthday they will be inducted at the barracks and school in anticipation of future servitude for the Empire but will continue to live with their natural mothers until age of consent that being age 16.

All income from sales of unowned males will be used to maintain the male training system and subsidize Female education.

Their Owners must return all males to the training barracks for a period of 14 days each year in order to reinforce and maintain their submission, docility and obedience.

All voluntary enslaved males will be taught to read, write and do arithmetic up to the age of seven in order to provide an acceptable level of service to their Owner. As he advances towards citizenship the level of education will be extended.

All males will receive extensive training in domestic chores as well as the care and pampering of Ladies.

All males will, from birth, undergo continuous and rigorous training to focus their lives entirely on their Owner's well-being, happiness and comfort and to ensure their complete submission and obedience.

Education Curriculum:

Elementary School

1st Grade

Much the same as at as in other Empires with the following exceptions

Recommended age: girls 6 males' 7- 8 Age variance due to the fact that girls mature and are naturally more intelligent than males. males often require remedial work

Recess time before lunch will be an hour free period for the girls and one hour of exercise for the boys.

During lunch period the boys will bring the lunches to the girls seated at their tables. Boys will then be allowed to retrieve their lunch (sandwich and carton of milk) and proceed outside where they will sit on the ground and eat. The boys will then need to clean up their mess and clear the tables for the girls.

There will be a period after lunch where the girls will gather for an entertainment period. The boys will spend this time washing the lunch dishes and then cleaning the cafeteria and classrooms.

Discipline is to be handled in private and be tailored to the slave by the slave owner and the instructor. All punishments are videotaped and emailed to slave owners so they may further address the issue

Recommended age: Girls 13 serfs 16

Discipline shall consist of shorts and underwear down for spanking in private. Any additional punishment necessary shall also be conducted in private.

Compulsory daily milking by the school nurse by massaging of the prostate, as boys are not allowed to cum any other way. Chastity devices must be worn at all times.

High School

9th Grade

Recommended age: Girls 14 serfs 17

At the beginning of high school all girls are paired with a serf

The serf will make and wear the uniform of his new trainers choosing

The serf will be responsible for waiting outside his trainer's house and escorting her to and from school.

Discipline shall consist of bare bottom spankings administered in private by the instructor. The instructor and or owner if available shall decide the spanking instrument(s) and number of swats.

10th Grade

Recommended age: Girls 15 serfs 18

Discipline shall consist of bare bottom spankings administered in private by the instructor. The instructor and/or owner if available shall decide the spanking instrument(s) and number of swats.

After gym class serfs will shower and groom themselves for the Females in an open area so that the staff may ensure proper hygiene.

serfs must attain their trainer's permission to use the bathroom. The trainer will accompany the serf to the bathroom and ensure his hygiene. It is recommended that all serfs remove all clothing before using the facilities

Recommended age: Girls 16 serfs 19

Discipline shall be a spanking. The position the serf assumes, the number of swats, the implement, and the state of dress shall be left to the discretion of the trainer. It is recommended she consult with serf 's owner on a regular basis. The instructor shall ensure no permanent harm is done.

Throughout the school year the Girls will learn and practice proper medical exams on their serfs. Included but not limited to; rectal temperature taking, enema, hernia check, swabbing of the urethra, stimulation of the prostate, etc...

The Girls in same grade may now carry out daily milking, but this will still be the boys' only method of release.

Once a week the Girls will visit one of the younger grades to practice age appropriate exams. This will ensure that they have an understanding of how the body develops and that the serf has a complete health and growth chart when he reaches the 11th grade.

12th grade

Recommended age: Girls 17 serfs 20

The serf shall be entrusted to the girls.

The Girls shall decide every aspect of the serf's 12th grade experience.

Traditionally after graduation the serf's owner allows the trainer to borrow the serf for the weekend to celebrate with Her friends.

On the following Monday the serf's graduate in a 2 hour long ceremony designed for each serf by his trainer and owner. They are usually designed to recognize the time spent on their education by a lot of people. They are usually broken into two parts, one where the serf takes a punishment to show his respect, and one where the serf is given a creative way to show his submission. The trainer designs both parts. An award is given each year to the most creative ceremony planner. It is tradition to invite all past instructors, the Owner and five of Her friends, and the instructor and five of Her friends. All of these people typically are involved in both parts of the ceremony.

"Fast-Track" Program: This was introduced several decades ago in Canada, and has been a smashing success there, producing many exceptional, highly successful ladies, many who are still in their teens.

The purpose of this program is to expedite the progress of exceptionally bright and adept girls into responsible and capable young ladies. Girls are tested and monitored at every age for the purpose of qualifying deserving girls into this program as early in their development as possible. Given that many girls progress faster than others, this rewards those who are intelligent and hard-working enough to advance quicker than their other classmates. In fact, many girls have advanced two grades in as little as a year's time. So while males must follow a set course requirement regimen through age 20 (their schooling being neither rigorous nor highly requiring of them), there is to be enough flexibility in the female curriculum so as to accommodate exceptional female students to develop academically far ahead of their sister students enabling them to be all they can be.

Thus, it's not unusual for a young lady to finish high school in Canada in her early teen years. And if a promising young lady is able to qualify for the "FastTrack" program and advance through high school at any age, there is no reason she should suffer any age-based restrictions in her senior year. If she has proven to be that far ahead of the 'norm', she is entitled to all the privileges as any other senior. She therefore will be acting as the guardian of a 20 year old male student regardless of her age.

Now obviously, this age differential could consequently can be a very sizable one, and a 'tall task' for someone so young. Yet since the Empire in Canada has successfully brought many pubescent girls through their schooling as not only very bright, but also as quite well-matured, confident young ladies fully capable of handling a male at any age.

Of course we have a phase integral to this program which requires several hour-long, hands-on orientations by a teacher on the finer points of male handling, along with a supervised initial session wherein the instructor tutors the young Female Guardian directly with their male underling. And for an sharp, 'quick-study' student, this should prove to be mere 'child's play' no less here in the states then for the young ladies in My Mother Canada. Although many males here (as well as in other, even more primitive cultures which have been assimilated or conquered by the Empire), have had fewer years of mental re-conditioning, this will change rapidly as they are simply relegated a softer, more demure, fulfilling role in society as mere house maids.

Ownership

All male births must be registered with The Female Empire Agency for Registration (FEAR) within 2 working days.

The male, taken by his mother, must be registered at the nearest Training School within 120 hours of birth.

All males, from birth, are the property of The Female Empire citizens. Until sold and owned, all males are the owned by their Mothers, or in the event of Her death, their closest Female relative or Mistress or until the desired age of consent is reached.

All males sold, exchanged or given as gifts must be registered to their new Owner within 2 working days.

All rogue males must be registered, to their sponsoring Mistress or to the Council, with a dedicated training Mistress, within 2 working days.

The male must be identified and addressed by its registration number. No nicknames may be used but in private, the male will be addressed by the last three digits of its registration number.

Procreation

Citizens are encouraged to engage with a male of their choice, with his Owner's consent, for the purpose of procreation.

Citizens are strongly advised to contact FEAR before proceeding with conception in order to ensure that the male has no known inherited defects.

Now that the sex of a foetus can be determined before birth, abortion of Females is illegal because Citizens may use the reproduction only of males as a source of income.

males who have become citizens are allowed the privilege of applying to the Mistress of their choice for the purpose of reproduction.

Rules for males

- 1) Sex between the Mistress and the males is only done with the Mistresses approval and only as a reward.
- 2) males will be clothed in female attire so all citizens will know the males' true status.
- 3) That all males have a UPC number on their ass showing that they belong to a certain Mistress and that their Mistress has registered them with The Slave Registry.....an agency used for the purpose of registering male voluntary slaves and their owners.
- 4) That 3 times a year sporting events be held among voluntary slaves for the purpose of keeping them fit and virile and promoting the success of a Mistress's training.
- 5) That no male can look a Mistress in the eye without Her permission.
- 6) That all males are granted the opportunity to suggest how their Mistresses can get better use out of their bodies and their desires to serve. This is the only time that the male can look the Mistress in the eye.
- 7) That no Mistress can make an accusation against a male belonging to another Mistress unless she has irrefutable proof of the charge. If it is proven to be true then his Mistress shall, in accordance with legal precedents, have the court administer the appropriate punishment, and if not then the Mistress who made the false accusation must compensate the other Mistress whose voluntary slave was accused.

8) That males be schooled in the art of pleasing their Mistresses from holding doors open, to bowing when a mistress walks by, to being a carpet so she doesn't get her shoes or boots dirty, to performing whatever sexual act she desires (at the age of consent), to kissing her booted foot or feet and ungloved or gloved hands among other parts of Her revered body.

9) That a Mistress's voluntary slave can be used to please other Mistresses providing that Mistress asks permission to do so and that he is not returned as damaged goods. If the said male is returned damaged physically or mentally the female, owning the said slave, has the right to lay charges against the female who abused said male slave.

10) To prevent males posing as Females, all males must, within 10 days of birth, have a 5mm diameter black circle tattooed in the center of their chin.

11) All males are forbidden to imbibe alcohol in excess, smoke or take any drugs other than those prescribed by a medical practitioner. It has been decided that Henceforth, Lady Mistresses may reward their voluntary slaves, serfs, residents and citizens, if they so wish, by allowing them to drink two pints of beer, or three glasses of wine per week, when and where as required by the Lady concerned. This will be a gracious reward for good service, and can be removed as a punishment by any Mistress. The Residents of Mistress's will also be accorded the same privilege except their limit will be 3 pints of beer or 3 glasses of wine per week. The citizens will have the same privilege except their limit will be 5 pints of beer or 5 glasses of wine per week. If any male obtains or over indulges in alcoholic drinks, he will be committing crimes 1 & 2, and will be tried and severely punished accordingly

Crimes and Punishments

The following court system is based on English Common Law and every male who is charged will have a Female lawyer to defend him against a Female prosecutor who will attempt to establish his guilt. Plca-bargaining is also an accepted alternative but EVERY MALE IS INNOCENT UNTIL PROVEN GUILTY BEYOND A SHADOW OF A DOUBT.

1. males may not congregate in groups of more than three unless supervised by an equal number of Females over the age of 18.
2. If each male is restrained by at least two limbs (no more than one male may be freed at any time) or chained together in one group, the Female supervision ratio may be decreased to 4:1.

As a rape prevention precaution all males must be securely contained in an approved, secure chastity device but provision is made for the cleaning and sanitizing of the males' genitals and the chastity device..

Crimes males may be guilty of the following crimes listed in order of ascending gravity:

1. Disobedience and the Fabricating of a False Declaration.
2. Failure to focus on an Owners well being, happiness and comfort.
3. Damage to a Citizens property.
4. Theft or possession of property or money.
5. Threatening behaviour.
6. Assault of a Citizen.
7. Attempted escape.
8. Propagating thoughts and ideas which may harm one or more Citizens or bring them into disrepute.
9. Propagating thoughts and ideas which may harm The Female Empire or bring it into disrepute.
10. Propagating thoughts and ideas which may harm The Goddess, The Empress, or the Queens or bring them into disrepute.
11. Attempted rape of a Citizen.
12. Rape of a Citizen.
13. Attempted murder or murder of a male or Female
14. Attempted murder of a Citizen.
15. Murder of a Citizen.....male or Female

Trial procedures

Crimes 1 to 4 will be tried before a Regional court presided over by a Queen. Punishment will vary from 2 hours severe public flogging to one year of harsh retraining in the Female Empire's Strict Retraining and Correctional Facility.

Crimes 5 to 9 will be tried before a Provincial court presided over by the Empress. Punishment will vary from one to twenty years of harsh retraining in the Female Empire's Strict Retraining and Correctional Facility.

Crimes 9 to 14 will be tried before a Supreme Court presided over by the Goddess, her Empress and the Queens. Punishment will vary from twenty years to a lifetime of harsh retraining in the Female Empire's Strict Retraining and Correctional Facility.

Whether it be a Regional or Provincial or Supreme Court the defendant will appear in shackles and will be escorted to the stocks inside the courts, and secured there, before Goddess Peggy Sue, Empress Kathleen and Queens Justine and Rebecca with Fem. Advisors being there for interpretations of the law and Female procedures. The males will be seated on the floor in a kneeling position to the left side of the court to witness the proceedings while the male's Accuser or Accusers will be off to the right side holding whatever punishment implement(s) They desire to use if the male is found guilty. If the male decides on trial by jury then he will have a jury, which will consist of the 3-fem advisors, and 8 selected Females drawn by lot.

Any male found guilty will have to serve at least 1 type of punishment in some form of confinement...cage.....cell, etc. and also be made to serve anyone that the court decides to invoke.

There will be an option of serving a Goddess or Empress, Queen, Mistress, Noble Lady and Lady for one, two or more days work or simply be made to post a humiliating picture of himself in the "Hall of Shame" group folder for all to see and if sentence is not met by a certain date then he will be banned until he contacts the Goddess with the proper dues and faces a second court trial that would be usually stiffer. Usually this would consist of weights hanging from his balls, bending his hard cock down in between his legs, and even attaching heavy weights to the hair under his arms to the point where he feels it is ripping out and a severe strapping or whipping.

Of course no face need be posted to protect the said accused, unless it is very serious and could be used as an ultimate sentence.

Punishment

Once the punishment has been determined the prisoner will be told to report for his just due!! When he arrives and is told to strip by GODDESS Peggy Sue's assistant and that he must carefully fold his clothes, with pants, dress or skirt; undies; shirt, blouse or sweater; socks, knee highs, stockings or pantyhose; shoes or boots; stacked in that order to be given and logged in by GODDESS Peggy Sue's assistant. A receipt for personal property is then given...much like reporting to jail or prison!!

The assistant will escort the prisoner to the punishment table and he will pick out his instrument of punishment from a cane, paddle, board of Education, flogger, whip, etc.!! Then the prisoner will give assistant his choice!! Depending on how severe the infraction is GODDESS Peggy Sue may return the picked item for another instrument of punishment during the session.

The assistant will order the prisoner into position, standing, naked legs spread, and hands behind the back!!! The assistant will tie and cinch the hands tightly, put a spreader bar on his ankles insuring the spread and take a rope, which is tied to the hands and strung, to the ceiling. Then the hands are hoisted so the arms are up out of the way and prisoner is forced to bend over exposing his ass even to the point where he is tippy-toed!! If the prisoner utters protests or is disrespectful he will be tightly GAGGED.

GODDESS Peggy Sue takes the instrument of punishment from assistant and may or has the assistant state the charges/offense the prisoner is guilty of and the punishment will be declared and will be carried out!!

If GODDESS Peggy Sue thinks it appropriate she may take off Her panties and place them over his head so he gets a good taste and smell of Her most personal parts!! She may wish the prisoner to count out the strokes and, if She can't hear him, She may repeat the stroke OR start again with the whole punishment!!! GODDESS Peggy Sue may strike anywhere on the prisoner, though the back, ass and hind legs would be the main targets of this punishment!!!

GODDESS Peggy Sue should take the cane at the end and leave ten GOOD marks on him so that in a week or so he is still reminded of his punishment, not only by feel but also by sight!!!

At this point GODDESS Peggy Sue may wish to be serviced so She can move to the prisoner's head, assistant can pull off the panties so the prisoner can now lick, kiss, suck the GODDESS at Her pleasure!!!

GODDESS Peggy Sue may wish to reward assistant for her loyal service and she will make the prisoner available to service the assistant!!

In most circumstances Goddess Peggy Sue will defer her punishing of the male to the female Accuser or Accusers who then will carry out the prescribe punishment as ordered by the court

When done the prisoner must present the receipt for his clothes then he may dress and go!!! NO RECEIPT NO CLOTHES!!!

Additional punishment(s) may be carried out as described below for those males who are in need of more serious disciplining...

To begin, the male will be secured to a low table, on his back, legs and arms to each table leg. A funnel gag will be placed and secured in his mouth. He can breathe, but cannot say much except grunt. It also has other uses... A jointed ladder is placed across his middle (the sort that opens out into an A-shape with a small platform on top). A soft rope is wrapped around his balls and then pulled up towards the top of the ladder where it is secured. Nipple clamps are attached to his nipples. If possible, a length of rope is run from each of them (or the chain between them if they are the link sort) and is also attached to the top of the ladder.

The male's back is probably arched above the table now due to the tension. A considerate female torturer might check to see you are nicely secured by pulling on the two ropes to see how you react!! Now for some fun as the woman inquisitor first secures a candle and causes wax to be dripped all over his stretched ball sac and dripped around the edge his balls so that it runs into his exposed anus. Once the hole is sealed and the balls nicely covered, a spiky roller (like the sort used for wall-papering if you don't have a custom built one) is rolled along the shaft of his cock and over its head. It can be rolled over the balls and around the anus too. Since a layer of wax protects them, the roller will have to be pressed a little harder.

Now, since pleasure and pain go hand in hand for any submissive male, and since it is always nice to have some pleasure, his cock should be lubricated and a condom placed over it. Then the female can gently tease his cock, without letting him cum of course, while pulling on the ropes attached to his balls and nipples (or manipulating the clothes pegs if they are used). This should last long enough for the inquisitor to see that the male is desperate to cum and that maybe his balls and nipples are becoming sore.

Of course, before any more pleasure, a little more humiliation. So the female inquisitor should squat over the funnel and ensure that the male has a nice warm golden drink. Once refreshed, the fun can continue. At the female's discretion, he should be wanked to completion while his nipples and balls are stretched and tormented so that it really hurts. This should continue through the orgasm so that the pleasure is fleeting and he is reminded of being submissive first and foremost

After cumming, the condom should be removed and the contents completely emptied into the funnel. The inquisitor can perhaps assist again by peeing into the funnel to ensure that everything gets washed down and the male gets to enjoy all of his spilt cum. Finally, the female inquisitor can sit back, relax and watch while she gathers her thoughts. Perhaps another session can then begin with a new female torturer.....

Female Superiority ?

By Elise Sutton

So what is Female Domination ? The entire term seems to be a contradiction to our male dominated society. Female Domination did not originate from dominant women or feminists. It was men who coined the phrase Female Domination to categorize their sexual and social desires to submit themselves to the female gender.

My curiosity in Female Domination has developed into twenty plus years of studying and practicing Female Domination. I have learned much about the subjects of Female Domination and male submissive desires. When it comes to these subjects, I feel that I am a bit of an expert based on my years of study, observation and participation. I have learned that there are reasons why men have submissive desires toward women. A person's core nature expresses itself in the sexual realm through different sexual desires. To the novice, a man that desires to be on the bottom during intercourse is normal but a man who desires to be spanked or whipped by a woman is perverted. However, I have come to understand that both of these fore mentioned desires stem from the same core desire. That desire is to be sexually dominated by a woman. It is expressed differently but it is the same deep-rooted motivation. Not only that, but this deep-rooted nature is evolving and the man that desires to be on the bottom during intercourse today may very well develop a desire to be spanked or whipped by a woman tomorrow.

Once I learned about the natures of both men and women and once I learned about the natural dominance and supremacy of women over men, it became the key to unlocking and understanding all submissive desires within men. It matters not how these desires are expressed through different fantasies. The root and the core of these are all the same. Namely, the desire of the male gender is to be dominated and ruled by the female gender. Therefore, no expression of this submissive nature surprises me or shocks me. I have heard it all from my male clients and I have seen it all through my own participation in the Female Domination lifestyle.

Men desire corporal punishment, forced feminization, humiliation, strap-on play (being the receiver of a woman's rubber phallus), water sports (such as forced enemas or golden showers), and other D&S (Domination and Submission) activities. Men want to worship the female by tending to her physical and sexual needs (body worship) and men want to be made into a domesticated servant to their wives. But the common thread to all these sexual and submissive desires is the longing for loving female authority. To me, that is the true definition of Female Domination. Female Domination is Loving Female Authority. That is what most men want and need. All these specific fetishes or desires are the outward expressions of a man's need for loving female authority.

Terms like Female Domination, Female Supremacy, and Female Superiority were all coined by men, as they tried to explain their desires toward the female gender. So women are wise to capitalize by using those same terms (thus the reason for the title of my web site).

Words are merely verbal pictures. The right signal sent to the male mind will conjure up the programming that has gone into his subconscious since he was a child. Men create the majority of FemDom art, pictures and images to express how powerful women are in their eyes and how weak they feel in a woman's presence. These images represent what men are feeling inside. The poet and the song writer use words and the artist uses pictures to express their inner feelings. So when a woman becomes that image by donning a fetish outfit or saying a term or using her voice in a certain manner, she touches the male submissive nature and triggers his feelings and desires, thus he becomes weak and helpless. Then the woman can interact with the man with all barriers and defense mechanisms down. Now she is free to interact with the man in a more meaningful way. Now true intimacy and bonding can take place between the woman and the man because she now can see herself as he does. She now sees that in his eyes, she is indeed a Goddess.

So I say to the ladies, please do not get offended by FemDom artwork, videos, or literature, no matter how graphic in nature some of these may be. Instead, look more closely at what is being expressed by the male gender. What are men trying to convey when they produce media that shows men collared and bound at the feet of a woman? Ask yourself, why are sites like The Other World Kingdom so popular with men? What do these pictures say about the male submissive nature?

If a woman will look closer, get over her prudish and self-righteous ways and examine the message more than the content, then she will gain an incredible insight into the male psyche. What is the underlying message to all of these expressions, regardless of the content? Is it not simply the male gender recognizing his need to submit to the female gender? Is it not the inner male child, crying out to be disciplined and trained by the female gender? Is it not the true nature of man breaking forth in his attempt to surrender himself to the female gender ?

The thing women must keep in mind about Female Domination is that men need it. It is almost always the man who will introduce the Female Domination lifestyle to the woman. A courageous man with submissive desires introduces Female Domination to his female partner. Why do men do this? It's because men desire and need to be in submission to women. No matter how hard society or religion tries to tell men differently, something deep inside of them yearns to surrender to a powerful woman. These desires grow stronger with age and men will spend countless hours dreaming and fantasizing about Female Domination. They will pursue these desires and struggle with these desires trying to come to terms with them but sadly they will not come to terms with them until they truly have a relationship with a woman that can explore these desires with him in a loving manner.

The other side of this dynamic is that women who embrace the dominant role and who allow their dominant nature to come out, end up absolutely loving this lifestyle. It never ceases to amaze me how many women who once were real hesitant about being dominant, end up loving it so much that they later say that they would never go back to being in submission to a man or only having traditional sex with a man. The Female Domination lifestyle is liberating to women and it is also liberating for men, as they now can fulfill that yearning within them. The Female Domination lifestyle can be a win/win relationship for both the woman and the man.

The Natural Allure of the Feminine
By Paige-Harrison

The sexuality of the submissive male is very basic and is limited to the stimulation of his genitals and what he can visualize within his brain. His orgasm and release is achieved and culminated within a few seconds with rapid thrusting and spasms as he ejaculates. This is often a painful experience for the submissive male. The intensity of the pain can be associated with anxiety, fear and guilt over a variety of gender identity issues and conflict with his male orientation and female gender identity. Other issues such as guilt over infidelity or long time issues of identity with sexuality can cause pain and bring about a fear of ejaculating that are carried deep within the soul of the submissive male.

Many submissive men have a deep need for humiliation and desire to Worship the Female in a prostrate position. Pushing a male to his lowest depths is a means of reinforcing her Superior position. A Dominant Woman should frequently her male of his subordinate role to serving her Female Dominant. The submissive male who is placed into positions of humility such as kissing and worshipping at her feet will come to an acceptance of his role at an earlier point in time than if these activities are not practiced. There is a great symbolism in the act of kneeling before a Woman or kissing her foot in submission and surrender which reinforces the identity of being in a subordinate role.

All women have a Goddess of sexuality and spirituality within them. The body of a Goddess Woman is beautiful and sacred and has far superior sexual capabilities than the male. Her sensuality and sexuality is overwhelming to the submissive male as he is often psychologically pushed to worship and adore the Female form, which he may try to resist. The Female is intoxicatingly erogenous and erotic to the submissive as compared to a male who possesses only a very tiny area of sexuality.

In many cultures lovemaking is focused only on the Female. The submissive male serving and giving pleasure to his lover in the intimate act of giving oral sex in ways that are deeply spiritual and ritualistic. This ancient practice of oral worship is known as kamasutra tantra. A Dominant Woman has a right and an expectation that she is to be worshipped, served and pleased in this highly sensual and erotic manner by her submissive lover. However, the male must be taught these skills and to kneel and bow to the Woman as he is the submissive to her Dominance as his Lover. The male must learn and understand that what he wants is what only a Woman can give him. He must learn to surrender his destructive male ego and kneel and bow to his Dominant Lover to fully absorb her energy in a deeply spiritual way.

Women Are Superior to males

I am a firm believer in Female Supremacy. Years of experience have demonstrated to me that Women are Superior to males in many areas. What is the most compelling to the argument is that because Women produce the eggs, it is she is essential to the future. Eggs are reproductive cells and sperm are not. Additionally, more intellect, intellectual control over emotions, sharper senses and longer lives are just a few of the areas that point toward the reasons why Women are best equipped to lead and men should follow. However, it is in the area of Female sexuality that Women hold all the Power. Girls learn quickly how to tease and control the male. I can tell you that I especially enjoy teasing men. Sometimes I will absolutely confuse them by wearing "male-oriented attire" such as pants and suits with my heels which give me my exclusively feminine appeal. Submissive males will always be attracted to that which is exclusively associated with femininity in one way or another.

Additionally, most men live without direction and guidance. I know this because my submissive male is one. His submission to me in all aspects of his life; has made him a better person for it. The time is now for the Female-Led relationship model and lifestyle to take hold.

Five Telltale Signs That A Role Reversal Relationship Could Be Right For You

By Barbara Wright Abernathy

Powerful, accomplished women intimidate some men, but fascinate others. If you are a feisty, take-charge kind of gal, you've probably had your share of problems with men and wonder if you'll ever find Mr. Right. You don't want a wimp who won't stand up for himself (and you!) but you don't want a man who insists on being in control all the time either.

You may feel like you have to submerge your real personality in order to get along with a man, but sooner or later the power struggles begin. Don't give up hope on romance just yet. There's a reason for the problem and there's a solution.

Many couples today are making a conscious decision for the woman to be head of household and the man to be her helpmate. Ambitious powerful women often find that partnering with a man who is supportive rather than competitive creates a harmonious and peaceful home and helps her achieve her goals.

Not all personality types are suited to this kind of relationship, but those who are have a unique set of desires, strengths and personality traits that are better expressed in a non-traditional kind of relationship.

So how do you know whether a role reversal relationship might be right for you? Here are the top five telltale signs that you might be happier than you ever imagined if you take the lead in love and marriage.

1. You enjoy setting goals and reaching them and are achieving success in your work.
2. You are ambitious, assertive and have lots of drive.
3. You are more decisive and more of a risk-taker than most people.
4. You're frustrated because men can't seem to handle a strong woman like you.
5. You've just about given up on your dream of a great romantic relationship.

If three or more of these statements are true for you, then you are a natural born leader who may be having trouble finding the right partner. Despite all the efforts to liberate ourselves from rigid gender roles, women in our society are still conditioned to want a man who has the outward characteristics of a leader: decisive, self-confident and aggressive. These types of traits are considered masculine, but women can possess them and be leaders, too.

If you are a woman who's naturally a leader, the man who is a best match for you is likely to be a supportive type of personality who is nurturing and caring. That doesn't mean he is weak or incompetent as a man. He simply has a different set of dominant personality traits that don't fit our society's image of the ideal male.

The man who is right for you, while successful in his own career, finds strong dominant women a turn-on and enjoys having you in charge on the home front. He would love to be your head cheerleader and devote himself to making your life easier and more comfortable.

However, he does not know how to tell you because he's afraid you'll think he is weak. You may have already passed over a man like this, not realizing that he was a perfect partner for you.

It may seem strange and difficult to accept that a woman could be the leader in a marriage. It means giving up your fairytale wish for the Prince who will arrive on his white charger, take over your life and make you happy. Traditional marriage roles simply do not work for everyone. Role reversal relationships are on the rise as more men and women discover that there is another path to Happy Ever After.

Sexual Power for Women
In which we explore the advantages a man may find in being a woman's love slave
 By Georgcann Cross

If a man doesn't want to be your love slave, he can avoid it; and if he doesn't want to be any woman's love slave, he can avoid that too. In extreme cases, the costs of refusal may be prohibitive, but extreme cases are rare. The advantages men find in sexual slavery are diverse, and the important ones vary from one man to another. Let's look at some of the most common.

Sexual excitement

The most obvious advantage of sexual slavery is that it's tremendously exciting.

After a while, a man in an ordinary relationship becomes sexually bored with his partner and comes to regard lovemaking as more duty than pleasure. If he's not committed to the relationship, he seeks a new and therefore more exciting partner, then repeats the pattern until he makes a commitment before getting bored. When he gets bored with a partner to whom he's committed, he stops making love. If his libido was weak to begin with, he becomes impotent. More commonly, he delivers brief, mechanical sexual performances devoid of emotion.

Many women blame themselves when this happens. Some blame their partners. In actuality, blame is inappropriate. Men are wired to lose interest in a partner who's always available. They can't help it. Fortunately they're also wired to turn on to the techniques of female domination; they can't help that either. And the power of these techniques to excite is far greater than the tendency of monogamy to bore. If your man can't have you whenever he wants, if he gets to experience that yummy little thrill only on your terms, boredom never sets in. He remains always a bit insecure, always eager to please you, always horny for you.

A love slave spends much of his time in a state of sexual arousal. He may find this frustrating at times, but always exciting and never boring. I've heard of two love slaves in their seventies who were vigorously potent, and one of them had given up on sex in a conventional relationship fifteen years earlier, believing he was too old.

A particularly introspective man might appreciate this, as might a man who has been rescued from sexual boredom without a change of partner, but a man of ordinary self-awareness who is sexually enslaved early in a relationship will likely attribute his state of continuous arousal to his lover's attractiveness alone. And so much the better for her!

Love

Like sexual excitement, being in love is a delicious feeling. Men, control freaks that they are, rarely seek it; they seek sexual flings instead. Nevertheless men do fall in love early in their relationships and feel a loss when they assert dominion over their partners and the feeling goes away. Eventually a man reaches a point in his life where he becomes aware that he's no longer in love with the woman he married and, unless he ends or at least risks his marriage, he's doomed to live out his days without ever experiencing that feeling again. Grim.

Female domination saves a man from that. A love slave is, first and foremost, in love with his partner, and the feeling doesn't go away. Many factors contribute to this, among them the same insecurity that keeps him sexually excited, her sharing of his vulnerability with respect to the Loop, and his eidetic recollections of her teasing.

As with sexual excitement, only an uncommonly experienced and introspective man will understand that his enslavement is what makes him love his partner with such enduring intensity. The average man will be aware only of being in love. Both will be emotionally committed.

Intimacy

Men crave intimacy but fear it. Generally fear wins. A woman who sexually enslaves her lover can tip the balance so he can enjoy being known by her.

Early in a relationship, when a man is in love, he wants to share all his thoughts, feelings, fantasies, beliefs, hopes, dreams and fears. He rehearses what he'd like to say, but typically can bring himself to voice only a small fraction of what's inside. He's learned to keep it all to himself, and the learning is of a sort that's difficult to overcome. As the relationship matures, he feels obliged to control it.

The necessity of confronting his partner as an adversary when they have differences (for that's how he sees it!) now makes self-disclosure impossible. The enemy might learn something she could use against him. This is war, and he has to win — has to expand and consolidate his control.

From her point of view, the most appealing aspects of his personality have disappeared behind an impenetrable wall. From his point of view, he's involved in a relationship recognized as the ultimate in intimacy by his friends, colleagues, church and state, and he's emotionally isolated.

Sexual slavery makes it easier for a man to talk openly with his partner about matters of emotional significance. It does this in several ways.

If she uses her sexual power to take control of all aspects of the relationship, making whatever decisions there are to be made, he doesn't have to be ready for battle. There isn't going to be a battle, so there's no tactical disadvantage in having a history of intimacy.

If she considers his needs in making her decisions—and she would be foolish not to—he'll learn that it's in his best interest to let her know what those needs are. He'll learn to prioritize them honestly as well. Some things matter to him a great deal, others only a little. There are preferences he might insist upon in an ordinary relationship that aren't his at all, but represent instead what he thinks he owes his family or what he hopes will impress his buddies. If she considers his stated needs in good faith, her decisions will suit him best if he's been honest with her. Intimate self-disclosure thus becomes a way of getting what he needs and wants.

The Loop, by being a significant vulnerability he can't help but share, gets him accustomed to being intimately known. Other secrets no longer seem so dark as to be worth hiding. In time, he learns his partner isn't dangerous and he gets comfortable enough to talk openly about anything. Eventually he realizes she knows him quite well and loves him for who he is, rather than for the image he was trying to project when they met or for some utilitarian advantage. That's a truly exhilarating high—one that the conventionally dominant man will never reach.

Because he's in love, he wants to share his thoughts, feelings, fantasies, beliefs, hopes, dreams and fears, just as at the beginning of a conventional relationship. And the love inspired by sexual slavery lasts, so he actually has a chance of communicating it all, then going on to share the changes that come with maturity and age. Happily ever after.

Escape from responsibility

Responsibility is strenuous. Some men, particularly those in high-pressure jobs that require them to make decisions that have profound effects on the lives of others, carry far more than is good for them. Such a man often feels relieved if his woman takes control of their relationship and assumes all responsibility for the part of his life that she shares.

Permission to reject overwork

Some men, once married, spend too much of their lives working and too little at home. They do it partly because it's a socially acceptable way to avoid the terrors of intimacy, partly because they believe their wives value the financial rewards of their industry above their companionship. A few, sadly, are right. Most are wrong but refuse to change their ways no matter how their wives beg. A woman who sexually enslaves her husband is in a position to require that he spend a reasonable amount of time at home. If she states a willingness to accept the resultant decrease in his income, he has no choice but to believe her. He's almost always happy with the results.

Motivation

By way of contrast, there are men who can't motivate themselves as they would like; they find it useful to have their partners oversee their endeavors, spurring them on with sexual rewards and punishments. I've known women who used the power of their femininity to push their men through a program of weight loss, a course of study leading to a master's degree, training for a marathon, and the completion of a book of photographic essays. The men themselves chose their respective goals and were happy for the motivational assistance their partners gave them, though they grumbled a bit along the way.

This sort of arrangement has an extreme form, considerably darker. I've known two women whose husbands developed gambling addictions so severe and damaging, it seemed suicide was the only way out. When each of these men hit bottom, his wife scraped him up, sexually enslaved him, and used the leverage that that gave her to pull him back to a semblance of sanity. The men seemed as happy as those who chose their own goals, if only because they weren't abandoned to financial ruin and social disgrace when they knew they deserved it. Indeed they grumbled less about their treatment, even though it was considerably harsher and they had no real choice but to accept it. Now back among the living, they could free themselves if they wanted to, but neither has tried.

Knowing what's expected

A man in a conventional relationship is often troubled by the feeling that his partner is unjustifiably annoyed with him—that she blames him for neglecting something important to her, for somehow failing to meet her needs. But she hasn't actually said that, and she certainly hasn't given him a list of things he's neglecting. Her rule seems to be, It's no good if I have to tell you, and he suspects that she changes the secret desideratum whenever he comes close to identifying it. He finds this frustrating.

She tells him clearly and truthfully what she needs, wants, and expects of him. He delivers it because he loves her. She thanks him. Simple and fair. Instead of feeling frustrated he feels appreciated.

Avoidance of performance anxiety

A man in a conventional relationship often falls into the worry that his partner will be horny when he's not, and that she'll react unpleasantly if he's unable to fuck her on demand. This worry kills what little desire he might have had, setting up a loop that can lead to chronic impotence.

A love slave doesn't have that problem—not unless his partner is foolish enough to demand sexual arousal from him. Instead he has the opposite problem—that he'll be embarrassed by his inability to keep his arousal under control—and that mind-set precludes performance anxiety.

If she finds herself in desperate need of sexual satisfaction when he's absolutely incapable of arousal, she can always have him eat her or finger her, warning him beforehand what he's in for if he lets his cock get hard. Afterward she can congratulate him on his rare self control. I don't recommend this because it gets him used to the possibility of sexual contact without arousal, but it does get her needs met without inducing performance anxiety.

Altered consciousness

Since time immemorial, we humans have tried to gain a perspective on our own nature and our role in the larger scheme of things. In pursuit of this goal, we've sought ways to escape ordinary reality, retaining just a vantage point from which to observe what happens to us — who we become — when the world goes weird. The aids most commonly employed to achieve such alteration of consciousness are botanicals such as marijuana and hashish, iboga and ayahuasca, peyote and magic mushrooms. Some people get comparable results from yoga or fasting; others from such pursuits as skiing, hang gliding, rock climbing or sailing.

Sexual slavery can do it too. It splits the personality the same way, into the objective observer and the kid taking the trip on the ragged edge of the impossible. The kid on the trip is out of control, can't say no to his partner, can't help turning on, can't help loving her. The observer looks on in wonder. Wow ! Is this really me ? I never would have imagined it possible !

and its socio-cultural consequences*

By Aline d'Arbrant

The 20th century was marked, in particular in its first two thirds, by an intensification of the struggles of Feminist, its two world wars, mainly intended to suppress them under the virile ones and fallacious patriotic pretexts, that could not be right. With this latent and increasingly precise threat that an emancipated and conquering Femininity made on its usurped powers, the male reacted by the creation of conditioning media, like television, the multiplication of debilitating pseudo-philosophical theories and the resurgence of religious fanaticism.

But these frightened and criminal chauvinist decision makers, forgot one vital thing, their self protection. And, as Womyn, unconsciously, rationally or thanks to their sixth sense, were more or less prepared for this unhealthy and petty reaction, the principal victims of this desperate counter-offensive are to be precisely the male elements of these sacrificed generations. When one uses as a last weapon the propagation of illiteracy, intolerance, ignorance and stupidity, it is well to expect that the first contaminated, as with most of the other epidemics, are the males. And it is that of which we are well obliged to report today.

Just like the young boy at school, the adult male at this inhuman end of the century became limited, malicious, uncultivated and is tragically in a manifest position of inferiority, or even of total dependence, with respect to the Womyn. He even understands with great difficulty that his psycho-intellectual state, near to the abject, is only the result of an intrinsic fault which he cultivated instead of circumscribing and proscribing it by subjecting, without condition, hesitation nor regret, to his partner, either a Lady, a Womyn, a Grrl or a young Grrl who is by nature superior psychologically and intellectually compared to him.

This stammering awakening, that with a little understanding we all can note in our unfortunate companions, alas has thus deteriorated so much due to his male ego that only a servitude, total or partial, can dissolve it effectively. One cannot sweep away millennia of male chauvinist certainty in a few years of Female predominance. However, little by little, the male admits his inferiority and accepts a certain social regression to the Womyn's profit. Indications do not lack (higher rates on automobile insurance for the young male drivers, the teaching profession almost entirely Feminized, Female decision makers on almost all the levels of the administration, Justice, etc.) that the total social tendency is with the Female preponderance in all fields (policy, commercial, convivial, etc).

The evidence, and if the few males which still obstinately refuse their defeat do not irreversible cause a third world war, the twenty first century will see the result of this evolution and its outcome, with the profit of this long fight for power to the Womyn. The problem of unemployment will pragmatically be solved by the only reasonably desirable reforms, the confiscation by the Womyn of all the decision-making jobs and the more or less general assignment of the males to manual and servile works.

But we will have to take care not to fall into the same traps that the males did when they themselves had absolute power. It will be necessary, of course, to separate them from all the functions of responsibility but however to keep some of them, among the most submissive and adapted to Female Supremacy, in apparent situations of decision making to show their fellows who would find hard to swallow their dependence but which, fortunately, will remain always also easy to fool. In the family, one will naturally need to confine them to the domestic tasks but nevertheless to sometimes agree to direct them, at least verbally, in certain fields manifestly more delicate as the kitchen, for example, and the decoration of the house. In the same way, if the total sexual freedom of the Womyn and polyandry must be universally institutionalized and not cause any dispute it will have despite everything to tolerate, for example in the form of loan with another Womyn or under pretext of erotic formation in a specialist, a certain infidelity of her husbands, thus giving the illusion of a certain reciprocity. All this comes within the province of common sense and will not pose any problem in the newborn Gynarchy. But still it is necessary that each Womyn knows which male reactions to be expecting from now on for the few years or the few decades which separate us from final success and by which control to answer them. A good theoretical knowledge of etiology and semiology, of the current psycho-intellectual regression of the male will give the Womyn called to guide the advent Gynarchist the theoretical bases necessary to the use of these same male intrinsic flaws to the profit of the ideal society in construction.

The debilitating psychological degeneration that the males of the human species undergo today, just like their manifest progressive stupidity, must obviously become the Female weapons for the radical social change in preparation. The intrinsically male tendency to unload responsibilities, which one notes in the politicians as in the simple fathers of families, (the former discharge on technicians, and still some technicians, of all the incomprehensible technical problems for them, the latter give up to their more qualified partners the financial, functional direction and morals of their family which they cannot assume), will be the key to Womyn being able to acquire power.

When, on all the decision making levels of society, the global to the family unit, the male, as he already is doing gradually, will have the absolute obligation to refer about it to one of the Womyn, there will be required nothing more than one small blow to give so that the declining male chauvinist world rocks definitively and irrevocably to nothing.

Aline d'Arbrant is the President-Foundress of Gynarchy International (gynarchy.org) and author of many novels and one essay about Female Supremacy : The Gynarchy, of which these words are extracts.

How can men approach their wives about their submissive desires ?

By Emily and Ken Addison

Introduction by Mistress Peggy Sue

There is an argument to be made that a "true" submissive will disregard their own feelings and find gratification in serving the woman in their life regardless of the circumstances. In other words, these men can be content to follow along on a path of stealth submission, where they endeavor to do everything they can to please the woman regardless of her knowledge that he is submissive to her. Her desires and wishes are all that matters and there is no thought given to what he needs out of the relationship. While in theory this sounds great, in practice it is unworkable for most men.

Simply put, the vast majority of submissive men need something out of the relationship that stealth submission does not provide. They need a formal acknowledgement on the part of the woman that she is in charge and there is an expectation that he will obey her. They need this notion reinforced through task lists, through overt control of his activities, through orgasm denial, through whatever it is that works for both halves of the couple. Yes, a woman that is truly in control in her relationship could choose to do none of these things. However, if she seeks to build a stronger tie with her husband, she needs to nurture his submission and fulfill his needs in much the same way that he needs to satisfy hers.

Letter from a husband #1: A Husband Fails to Communicate

I had been married ten years to a great woman. We had a great relationship despite the fact that I kept my submissive fantasies completely hidden. I would surf the internet for pornography to try and fill the void, but I always felt both guilty and unfulfilled. Furthermore, the female dominant photos from the internet porn-sites seemed silly to me, very unlike what I really wanted. What I wanted, but thought was impossible, was for my wife to be the one controlling me. I was sure this would never happen as she was as close to the image of June Cleaver as anyone could imagine. She is very conservative, straight-laced and generally in the mainstream in her thinking and tastes.

One day it occurred to me that I would never know if submitting to my wife would satisfy my inner craving unless I tried it. I decided to give it a go. I begin my doing all the household chores that she would ordinarily do. I followed this to the letter, doing all of our laundry, taking care of the dogs, bathroom cleaning, etc. When she asked what I was up to I told her that I just thought I had not been pulling my own weight and wanted to try and make up for it. I wanted so bad to come clean about my real motives, but I was way too afraid to approach her. So I began what was about a month-long experiment. I tried to do literally everything. All this actually made her feel guilty and she made an effort to step up things that she did for me. In addition to her constantly thanking me, she would always step in and help me. If I got in the shower before her, I would come out to find that she had already woken up and made the bed. I would come home to wonderfully cooked dinners (all my favorites), and I was the recipient of at least twice as much sex as I had become accustomed. In bed I would always begin by going down on her. I tried to tell her that I wanted to focus on her pleasure, but she would always want to reciprocate. Our relationship improved, there was no doubt about that, and that in itself was some reward. However, I never felt as though my itch was being scratched.

I kept dancing around my true feelings but never really opened up to her. It wasn't long before I gave up on the whole idea. All the work involved in trying to please her required more self-discipline than I had in me. Without the reward, without the sense that I was doing these things because she demanded them of me not merely because I wanted to do them, I couldn't keep it up.

In no time at all we both fell back into our old habits.

Signed... Mark in Florida

How can men approach their wives about their submissive desires ?

There is no magic bullet. There is no best answer that is going to work for everyone. It sounds wise and profound for some experts to profess that men must simply approach their wives with an open and honest expression of their true feelings and let the chips fall where they may. This may be true, but that mountain is just way too high for many men to scale. The fear of rejection is real, make no mistake about it. And it is not just the fear of rejection; it is the reality of rejection as well. The fact is that some women will reject these ideas altogether and view their husbands as just a little strange for suggesting them in the first place. Most (but probably not all) of these women, can be brought around to these ideas if they are placed in the proper context for them, but this is a difficult task for most men to accomplish without assistance. Most men are just not good communicators.

For these men, this site has something to offer. The following are a collection of ideas to consider. Some of them are simply crutches for the man that wants to be direct and honest about his desire but lacks the words to express his thoughts. Others are admittedly manipulative in that the motives are not always clear from the beginning. Whether the ends justify the means for these suggestions is a question that is ultimately up to the individual. Men can judge for themselves the merit of all of these ideas. Any man that finds success or failure with any of them, or has a creative idea of his own, is encouraged to write an email to this site (mail to wrapped@aroundherfinger.com). (Please know that all emails submitted to this site become the property of this site's owners and that we reserve the right to publish them and re-use them for commercial or non-commercial purposes. We will not publish email addresses or last names.).

Write her an email

Many men find it easier to communicate their feelings in an email than they do in face to face communication. Be certain the email talks about your feelings for her completely independent of your submissive desires. Let her know that she is loved for who she is, not just for what you hope she can become. This is important advice for any submissive man. The following email was sent to us by a visitor to the site. It worked for him; consider using it as a template for your own message :

Dear _____,

I have never loved you more than I do today. When we first fell in love, I never imagined that the way I feel about you could be more intense all these years later than it was back then, but that is just what has happened. Years of being together have given us so many common experiences, so many shared memories, and so much absolute trust in one another. I love you completely and unconditionally.

Just telling you I love you is reason enough to share these thoughts with you, but in this case, I have a very specific reason for writing you this note. I want to share with you some ideas that have occupied more and more of my thoughts lately.

It's no secret that I haven't always pulled my weight with all the work that has to be done around the house. I also know that I may seem stubborn to you at times, so set in my ways that it doesn't seem that I always respect your opinions to the extent that I should. I also know that I do not always give you the attention that you deserve. Lately, however, I have come to the realization that you shouldn't be shouldering all of the housework. I should be stepping up to the plate. I have come to the realization that you shouldn't have to live with my stubbornness in making important decision. Your judgment is generally better than mine anyway. If anyone should be head of the household, it seems natural to me that it should be you. My energy should be directed at making you happy. It seems natural and right to me that your happiness be my ultimate goal. It seems natural and right that I should submit to you. You should be head of the household and I should fall in line with your wishes. I really mean this. I want our relationship to change so that we both accept your authority in our marriage.

As I write this, I suspect that it sounds funny to read it out of the context of my thoughts. I have had this sense of wanting to submit to you for a long time. I'm not exactly sure I know why, but I know it is true.

I hope we can talk more about this tonight. I assure you that this is a very genuine expression of how I feel. I hope you are willing to keep an open mind and consider exploring this dynamic in our relationship together.

Love.

There is a certain sense of security to be found in being "accidentally discovered". Leave this site open where you know she will discover it. Be certain that you have some mechanism for knowing if she saw it or not. There is nothing more unnerving than knowing that you might have let her in on your secret.

Confess to her friend

Many men write to us wishing that there was a female friend of their wives to whom they could confess their desire. It seems that many husbands feel that if the idea of loving female authority was planted in the heads of their wives by another woman, it would take the edge off the concept and seem all the more palatable. Unfortunately, most men do not have the luxury of going this route.

Buy her our book

Forgive this shameless plug as the site attempts to pay for itself. However, all kidding aside, this book has helped many men by providing a tangible, non-threatening introduction of these concepts to their wives.

The book is even more vanilla than this site. It avoids use of the terms "submission" and "dominance". It focuses on the benefits of a female led household for both partners. It utilizes the story of a fictional couple and their own journey into female authority in combination with "intermission" chapters that help bring the concepts together in an extremely readable way. The book has been a best-seller since it was first launched on Lulu.com. By clicking : <http://www.lulu.com/aroundherfinger> you will be redirected to Lulu.com where you can purchase either a hardcopy or an electronic copy.

Be aware that the book is very unlike this site in the approach that it takes to introducing these concepts. Quite intentionally, the book does not pre-suppose that the husband is any more inclined to desire this dynamic in the relationship than is the wife. The book is focused on the reality that a female led household is a better way for couples to function and spends a great deal of effort and attention in making this point. It does so in a way that will appeal to the conservative, traditional woman. Do not, however, expect to see a re-packaging of this site in book format.

The Intimacy Game

Many of you have no doubt seen the assortment of romance-themed games that are available everywhere from Hallmarks shops to Spencer gifts to adult novelty stores. This game is a little different in that the activities and questions on the cards that come with the game are geared towards encouraging discussion and experimentation in male submission to female authority. This, however, will be completely unknown to the woman with whom you play the game. This is because the materials in the game itself make no overt mention of the topics. Instead, the game provides opportunities for you to make your own mention of it in a way that seems perfectly spontaneous. This becomes clearer with a detailed explanation of the game :

Note : This game is in development and has yet to be released. Readers of this site can feel free to work up their own version of the game for their own personal use.

About Mistress Peggy Sue
By Allen Raymond

Mistress Peggy Sue's brand of female supremacy embodies the wisest philosophies of female supremacy. It absolutely exalts women to the levels of human gods, yet allows males, in complete subjection, to have the freedom to use their talents and gifts to exalt women to their rightful places in life, which is to be the ruling class. It is slavery for the submissive male with a wonderful purpose, which is to glorify females and to exalt them to their destinies.

All honor and glory to Peggy Sue.

She is a very, very wise Female Supremacist. She allows her male slaves to use their abilities to empower women. Also, though she is supremely above us, she genuinely cares for us. She is a loving, wonderful Mistress. She is so very wise and for that I am hers as she has accepted me. I do not deserve such an honour.

The reason I write about your ability to lead many people, or something like a 'nation' is because you know what it takes to raise a generation of children into a real Matriarchal Society because that is EXACTLY what you did. And your male is your complete slave, yet he lived out his great and awesome potential. If your model would be followed, the insanity of FemDom would go away and the realization of Female Supremacy would be lived out in practical daily life. In a sense, Ma'am, you raised a "nation of three" (two daughters, one husband/slave) during your lifetime so far. It's just a shame your talents, vision and abilities haven't been used so far on a much, much bigger scale, such as an entire nation.

Think if all households in America raised their boys and girls like you raised your children. The world we lived in would truly be female dominated in a real sense without all of the craziness.

Unfortunately for yourself, you were born about 100 years too early. You are the kind of woman, born in the future, probably who could administer the affairs of a small nation or state, if you know what I mean or, to be more accurate, be an effective administrator or political-type over many, many people. You know how to properly raise children, train men to be slaves, etc. it's just that society isn't as far along as you.

The reason I write about your ability to lead many people, or something like a 'nation' is because you know what it takes to raise a generation of children into a real Matriarchal Society because that is EXACTLY what you did. And your male is your complete slave, yet he lived out his great and awesome potential. If your model would be followed, the insanity of FemDom would go away and the realization of Female Supremacy would be lived out in practical daily life. In a sense, Ma'am, you raised a "nation of three" (two daughters, one husband/slave) during your lifetime so far. It's just a shame your talents, vision and abilities haven't been used so far on a much, much bigger scale, such as an entire nation.

Think if all households in America raised their boys and girls like you raised your children. The world we lived in would truly be female dominated in a real sense without all of the craziness. If you ask me, some of these so-called dommes seem more like prostitutes than dominant females because they seem to always want and need the money of males.

Not that having a household where the woman stays at home cannot be Matriarchal. I'm just speaking about how I see some so-called dommes act like TV preachers almost begging for money.

You are what I would call a ruling class domme of the Highest Order.

How do I put it...a Woman in the midst of little girls. The Highest Order. Visionary. A woman with the intellectual capacity to lead millions if they were ready to lead. I could see you as president of a nation. You may laugh at what I am saying, but I see that capability in you.

You have tremendous vision for the long-term management of society. You see the big picture.

So, Dear Goddess, as you can see, you are not the problem. The problem is there are too many people who are short sighted, too sexually driven, and too many women who still don't know how to manage and handle the power they are beginning to realize they possess. You understand that tremendous power and are matured in how to handle it and use it.

All honor and glory to Mistress Peggy Sue.

CONCLUSION

A good sample, my Family

In my experience the reason why my FemDom marriage has lasted so long is because I had a slave who believed in the following mission statement :

Myself with business attire

"There is no greater joy when one can serve his mistress knowing that it is his duty in life to make her happy and do this out of love, not fear, for his mistress. That love is seen even in non married relationships where the slave voluntarily submits and enjoys his servitude to his mistress".

Ever since that day when I saw him in court defending a client and won I knew that he would serve me but it was not easy as I had to repair the damage his domineering mom had done to him. I found inside him a potential to accept a kinder, gentler form of domination and a kind many Dommies still cannot wrap their heads around for some strange idiotic reason. I realized that if I did not move fast that I would lose him as he was ready to become a dominant male and it took many months until he was once again ensnared in my web. Even after marriage I had a 5-year fight with his mom over who would dominate until he stepped in and told his mother "TO SHOVE IT UP HER ASS."

Now what has transpired in the 32 years of our marriage ?

1) I never punished unless necessary contrary to the "let's break the male" school of thought which a lot of Dommes still stupidly cling to.

2) I made sure that he was aware of the new forms of testing that he would go through to toughen him up although his toughness came from Vietnam in 1967 - 1969 and the air force reserve 1975-1980. He willingly accepted the new punishments that would push him to the edge of the envelope.

*My enslave husband,
Christopher*

3) I laid down the rules that he would do as I said except in 2 areas :

a) Whenever he was preparing for a ease I would not bother him,

b) If there was an area where his expertise outshone mine then I agreed to his handling of the situation.

4) When Justine and Rebecca were born he agreed that, when it was time, he would serve as a guinea pig for them to learn how to dominate a man and have him serve them. He did this without a murmur of complaint or resistance, which reaffirmed my decision to marry and enslave him. My girls are now 30 and 28 respectively and can handle and control any man.

Dominant Mistress Rebecca. She's the wild one who takes to domination of males and females like a duck takes to water and is not above using B & D with some sadistic treatment thrown in for good measure

5) I laid down a schedule of servitude, which he followed faithfully including everything from baths to housecleaning to cooking to massages to breakfast in bed.

6) As our marriage grew it was evident that he once again fitted nicely into the role of an obedient yet intelligent slave.....one who was loyal and devoted to me even when I was offered money for him which I refused as he was a slave beyond price.

7) Now, in our 32nd year of marriage, we have become closer and have refined the roles of Domme and slave to the point where each knows what the other is capable of doing.

I wish every Domme had a slave like mine as their marriages would be even better.....you do not have to break a slave's will to get him to serve you as I am living proof of it and if you use the God given gift of feminine wiles then any man can be enslaved no matter how difficult he is. The key is getting inside his head and using his weaknesses and strengths to ensure his servitude to you and once you have him fully in your grasp the rest is easy.

Have we had disputes, of course we have, but the difference is he disagrees with me in a respectful and reverential way and many times his logic and perception even surprises me making him a more valuable slave.

Does he show me and other women subservience.....YES HE DOES....as many women express envy at seeing him kneel and kiss their boots and gloved hands then mine.

Justine

Lastly, I would never sell or trade my slave christopher as he is too valuable and it would take too long to break in another slave who would be as good as him....that is why he is my slave emeritus and I am proud to be his Domme.

In regards to my three younger brothers...their wives have now been taking lessons from me and are Domming their husbands as well as sending their sons and daughters to learn subservience and Domination respectively.

What was my wedding like ? Well very unusual to say the least and shocking to many of the people attending and this will explain what happened:

I wished that all weddings could have been like mine when I came down the aisle dressed in a strapless gown with long white gloves to the shoulder then handing the bouquet to my sister I took chris's hands and handcuffed them in front then taking the bouquet back and facing the minister said "you can start now" in front of the congregation. I told him that the cuffs were to stay on during the ceremony and the receiving line and picture taking until dinner.

Kathleen, my twin sister and Mistress to MY Christopher

The joy on my face and my sisters, the shock on the minister's face and some of the older women and the resigned look on chris's face as he knew what his fate was to be and the look of disdain on his mom's face. Well everything went off without a hitch especially when it came to saying good-bye.

The power I felt was indescribable when we saw the guests below as we were at the top of the stairs where I threw the bouquet then bringing Chris into view. Turning him around, at the top of the stairs, they saw chris's hands had been cuffed behind him then having chris face the crowd they saw his ballgag.

I raised my voice thrusting a black leather gloved fist into the air said, "A new era has come upon this union of two people for this union will be called 'A FEMALE DOMINATED MARRIAGE'"

With that I led him away as a lot of the younger women cheered and applauded while the older generation look in disapproval and his mom looked at me with anger.

This is my lifestyle and it is a lifestyle that has been proven to be successful.....I believe that if all marriages were like mine there would be fewer domestic conflicts.
